CARRIE NATION WAS HISSED WHEN SHE MADE ATTACK UPON PRESIDENT

[illegible] Scenes [illegible] Night [illegible] Meet Meeting Remarkable.

Carrie Nation was hissed by an audience that crowded the Temple theater last evening for remarks directed against President Roosevelt. Later on in the evening the electric lights were cut off and Mrs. Nation finished her lecture in semi-darkness. The lecturer did not spare words in her condemnation of the Republican party, the trust which she alleged, existed between the political parties and the whisky manufacturers and brewers of the country, and her earnestness calmed the excitement which threatened at one time to break up the meeting. At the end of her two hours' talk, she was roundly applauded.

The evening was one of the most exciting the Temple theater, historic building as it is, has ever witnessed.

Mrs. Nation appeared alone upon the stage, apparelled all in white, and she dominated the large auditorium from her first words of greeting to the men and women of Colorado Springs. There was scarcely standing room to be found, and when the feeling of the audience broke loose, when the speaker was carried away by her enthusiasm and said things that by their very audacity brought forth shouts and handclapping from balcony to parquet, the building seemed to shake.

The greater percentage of the audience was men. A large crowd stood on the outside unable to get in. The woman who had wielded a hatchet so vigorously in Kansas that it had brought her fame throughout the world made an impassioned address, that even the total darkness under which the theater was plunged from a cause unknown could not break the thread of her argument, and the 1,600 present remained until gas jets could be lighted. There was much levity at times during the lecture and at one time several men had to come to the assistance of Mrs. Nation to drive cigarette smokers from the rear of the stage, the speaker having complained of the smoke.

Lights Went Out.

Every light in the house went out so suddenly that it was suspected some one belonging to the element which was displeased to make fun of the remarks had in some manner cut the connection. There was no laugh, however; and the great body of the audience sat in silence until here and there a gas jet had been lighted and the room dispersed. At the conclusion Mrs. Nation said that the ones who had come with prejudice to hear her had gone away satisfied, or else they would have risen to their feet at her invitation to propound her questions at any point on which they disagreed. "I think my visit to Colorado Springs has been productive of good; I earnestly hope so," said Mrs. Nation as she prepared to go to her hotel.

The hissing began when Mrs. Nation directed her sarcasm against the politicians who were aiding and abetting in the liquor traffic, which she calls an agreement with death and a covenant with hell. The Republican party she especially held up to scorn. "I am down on Roosevelt. He is in league with saloon keepers. He is controlled by the Republican party and they are in an unholy trust with whisky manufacturers and brewers," said the lecturer. The audience began to hiss and in the gallery cries of "No, No!" and the stamping of feet for several seconds drowned the words of Mrs. Nation. When quiet had been restored, she exclaimed:

"Yes, you hiss, but I defy those who hiss to stand up!"

Called Them Cowards.

The elderly white-robed woman on the stage came down to the footlights and her arm swept the audience while her features became stern and accusing. She was thoroughly angry and not waiting for a faint burst of applause she continued, "Like the slimy snakes you sit, there and hiss. You are cowards. I dare you to stand up, you that call yourselves men." Applause again broke forth when in the balcony a voice came clear and heard in every part of the hall, while a middle aged man stood up, and addressing Mrs. Nation, said:

Voice From Gallery.

"The president of the United States should not be insulted before any audience."

There was great applause. Mrs. Nation remaining quiet until her voice could be heard, saying:

"Thank God, in America we have free speech. If the president of the United States doesn't suit me, I have a right to say so. I don't indorse Roosevelt because in all his administration he hasn't done a thing to stop this awful traffic in whisky and beer that is ruining not only our husbands but our sons and is taking the brains and the life blood out of us as a nation.

"The Republican party receives $1.10 for every gallon of whisky sold and $1 for every barrel of beer, and the only difference between the Republicans and the Democrats is that the Republicans have the spoils in this trust they have formed with the liquor manufacturers and brewers, while the Democrats want it. I am not going to do any smashing in Colorado Springs; let the people do that with their votes. The voters in the Republican party are not doing their duty. What they are doing is this: When you see a man murdering his mother or knocking down his wife you know that he has received the benefits given him by this trust. Don't you do that, Republicans? Don't you make such crimes frequent? (Applause).

"Revolution is an inherent right in the people. The government is now conspiring against you. If it just took your money I wouldn't protest. If that was all that it was doing there would be no thought of revolution, but the government licenses saloons, saloons build criminals, saloons build penitentiaries and fill them, saloons take rights away from every person in this great country. What is there so vile as this evil?

"I am a royal American citizen. I have been invited to go to England and meet royalty. Ah, I said, royalty is in this country; here we have the true royalty and I would not go abroad to scrape and bow before a crowned head who in all his life never earned the bread to put into his mouth. (Laughter.)

Is a Striker.

"I am a striker myself, I always sympathize with strikers. You know when a man goes into a saloon he takes his whole family in with him. It is the worst form of dissipation. Nearly every animal [illegible] the female, no male dog will strike a female dog, but a man will strike a female. Liquor brutalizes him, and the sanctity of woman is lost sight of. Who puts him there? The voter. Who is the voter? The Republican party.

We Kansas Rebelled.

"Twenty-one years ago Kansas rebelled against this government. She has been living in rebellion 21 years, for we put the prohibition laws on our books. The only mistake we made was that we didn't put Prohibitionists in office to enforce these laws, but we are learning, thank God. Kansas is coming to the front. Talk about trusts. The first that was ever formed was between liquor dealers, brewers and political parties, in order to divide the spoils. Of course, there are good men in all parties, but they don't think. The effect of the hatchet is to make people think. Oh, yes, you can smash the government, thank God, by your votes, you can smash it. If you think I am using too strong an argument, rise up and tell me so. I belong to the third party, the Prohibition party. It represents the whole people. Sampson with his jaw bone was an agitator, David with his sling and little pebble was an agitator, and Gideon was also one of the same kind, and you remember other people came near killing him. The God that raised up all these things raised up Carrie Nation and put a hatchet in her hand. (Laughter.) I represent the best interest of everyone here. There is something about the human family, a touch of nature, that makes the whole world kin, that makes those who come to hear me with prejudice in their hearts go away seeing the wisdom of what I say. My whole life and nature is wrapped up in this work, and when I am dead you will see that I meant right. And you will remember that Carrie Nation represented the best interests of the American people.

"This liquor question is unconstitutional. Blackstone, the law giver, makes every man a Prohibitionist. This saloon business is anarchy, treason, slavery. It is the worst slavery in body and mind that the world has ever known."

Wrecking Experiences.

Mrs. Nation told in a graphic manner of her experiences in wrecking dives and saloons. She said: "There were six dives that I knew of near Wichita that were sending criminals to the penitentiary. I went to the officers but I did no good. No politician would close a saloon in Kansas because all are in the grand trust. I went to the governor, but he would give me no satisfaction. On the fifth day of June I made this prayer because they were determined to bring the saloons back to Kansas. I fell flat on my bedroom floor and prayed long and earnestly to God. The next morning God said, 'Go to Kiowa and break them up.' (Laughter.) You may think Carrie Nation is crazy. I suppose they thought that John the Baptist was crazy, and all the other agitators that accomplished good in the world, but some day all you people will understand. God didn't say 'smash,' but he said, 'Go to Kiowa,' and I lifted his hands and made the motion as if smashing something. I looked around the yard and got the largest and best rocks and brickbats and determined to set out at once against these dives. In Kansas, like your drug stores here, they give us trouble, but I reasoned I was not destroying property. It takes a sneak to buy it there as well as here, and a worse sneak to sell it. At 3:30 o'clock that afternoon I started out in my carriage. Toward evening I said if Prince, my horse, drives past this farm gate, I will go on to Kiowa and not rest till I get there. He did go past and I got to Kiowa. I went to the dive keepers and said, 'Men, you must close these places up. You entail expenses on us, for you make us support the jails and penitentiaries.' They had the governor on their side and they laughed me to scorn.' I didn't let them laugh long. I said, 'Get out of the way, I don't want to hit you,' and I began. (Laughter.)

About the Smashing.

"I know why you are laughing. If I had said I destroyed property or groceries or anything of that sort you would not have laughed. I never struck anybody in my life—not with a hatchet. I destroyed three of those dives that morning and I said to them, 'If I have broken the statutes of my state, arrest me. If I am not a law-breaker, then you are. If you don't put me behind prison bars, I'll put you there.'

"That smashing closed the dives in Kansas. They met together, those saloonkeepers and sued me for slander. I didn't know what lies they could put together in order to prove, as they called it, a case. We didn't waste time. We arrested those men who kept the dives and convicted them. I never asked for a warrant to arrest them, but Moses E. Wright of the Free Methodist church and an attorney, won the battle for me. God bless the Free Methodist church, I say, every last one of them is a Prohibitionist. But my enemies were busy too, and brought in a conviction of slander against me. They had six lawyers to prosecute me and while their conviction was all right, the damages were only assessed at $1. Pretty cheap reputation to be slandered if it was only worth a dollar. In every step I have taken I have been prosecuted. Two weeks afterwards I broke the finest saloon in Wichita. You haven't any here, but its a place where young men go into, attracted by the glitter and glare of the lights and the pleasant sound of the music. I went into that saloon at night and the first thing I did was to strike the picture of an unclothed woman and then I let loose and destroyed all kinds of liquors in cases. I wish I could touch a button and blow up every brewery and every distillery in the world.

In an Asylum.

"Well, I was arrested, and they put me into jail where I stayed from 8:30 a. m., to 6:30 p. m. Then what do you think they did? That governor, that attorney-general and those politicians put me in an insane asylum. Put me in a cell, barred and grated. I objected to the cigarette smoke which came from surrounding cells but the jailer brought in boxes of cigarettes to those poor captives and told them to smoke all they pleased. Ah, the vile cigarette! They sent out to the poor farm and got a man, a maniac 80 years old, and put him in the cell next to me. All night he cursed and raved and it was torture to me to know he was left there to torture me. One night they thought he was dead and summoned the doctor but the cell was so filthy they had to cleanse it before they would permit the doctor to see it.

"They put a quarantine on the jail to keep all friends away from me. I got this hoarseness of the voice by keeping the windows up at night. It was in December, but I had to keep them up or else strangle. I had only a mattress and no pillow. At last in my distress I prayed God to succor me. I opened my bible at the one hundred and fortieth psalm and it fell like a balm upon my spirit. Never will I be able to tell what I suffered." At this point the lights suddenly went out, but Mrs. Nation continued while attempts were made to light the gas jets. The speaker continued:

"Why should you smoke up your brain? It is almost as bad as liquor."

Sheets were all home as they came home and the challenger gaining fast and a trifle freer, went right past and to leeward of the older boat before they had gone a mile to windward. After holding this tack for 20 minutes, Shamrock III, came about and passed wide across the bows of Shamrock I., and taking up a position 'ahead' and wide to windward, pointing higher and sailing faster, she gained on every mile. The freshening wind caused some sea as the boats beat back, but the challenger stood up well to the wind and took the seas easily. She again crossed the bows of Shamrock I, as they beat into the bay. The time as they turned the Erin at the finish of the first round was:

The speaker took the two Colorado Springs papers and read the liquor advertisements, making sarcastic comments on the different brands, whose virtues were set forth in type. She stated the newspapers of the country were aiding the liquor traffic by publishing such advertisements, and deplored the "business office view" that made possible such advertising.

Urged Prohibition.

She dwelt upon the principles of the Prohibition party and urged that all become good smashers by voting the Prohibition ticket.

"The rest of my life will be devoted to preaching the gospel of temperance, and to establish homes for drunkards' wives. I leave here tomorrow and go direct to Topeka, where I establish the first home of this kind. I haven't a home, a jewel or a fine dress, for after all is said, the only thing you take to heaven is what you give away while on earth. All the funds that I receive will be devoted to this purpose." Mrs. Nation concluded the lecture by pronouncing a benediction upon those assembled. She had a large bundle of small souvenir hatchets and her photograph which she sold to the large crowd that surged to the platform after the meeting was over. There were many, both men and women, who took occasion to shake her by the hand and express admiration for the work she had been doing in the cause of temperance. Mrs. Nation will not go to Denver as her plans last night contemplated a direct trip from Colorado Springs to Topeka.

FARM SECTION OF ALABAMA DEVASTATED BY A CYCLONE

Twelve Persons [illegible] Fatally [illegible] Two Miles Wide and Two Miles Long.

By Associated Press.

Birmingham, Ala., April 8.—The little hamlet of Hopewell, 40 miles north of this city and one mile from Hanceville, was swept away early this morning by the cyclone which cut a path of desolation a mile wide and two miles long across a prosperous farming section of Blount county. Twelve persons were instantly killed, three or four fatally injured and a score seriously injured.

The dead:

MR. and MRS. GRIFFIN.
JOHN GRIFFIN.
MISS GRIFFIN.
HENRY M'COY.
FRED M'COY.
MISS VIRGIE M'COY.
C. C. ODEN, a prominent planter.
MISS NORMA ODEN.
LESTER ODEN.
MISS THELMA ODEN.
MRS. C. C. ODEN.

Injured—Son and niece of Nathan Griffin, Mrs. Henry McCoy and two children, R. B. Quick, Jack Quick, family of McCoy, seven persons, Mrs. Hodgeth Horton.

Miss Ida Horton, Richard Griffin.

It is believed that several of the injured will die. The storm came from the southwest and took its destructive path in a northeasterly direction, leaving every thing away in its way. The section through which it went is on a flat table land of Blount county. There was not the slightest intimation of its approach until the houses were being torn to pieces. One of the first houses destroyed was that of Nathan Griffin. The house was demolished and Mr. Griffin and his son James were killed. Mrs. Griffin was so badly injured that she died at an early hour this morning. Another son and a niece of Mr. Griffin made a miraculous escape, running from the house before the demolition was complete and saving their lives. They were injured, but will recover.

The house of John McCoy was the next wrecked but he and his family escaped with severe bruises.

The home of Henry McCoy, son of John McCoy, received the worst blow of the storm. His wife was severely injured. Two of his children are still unconscious and may die, and he and his baby and two other children are dead. He was still clinging his baby to life when his body was found close to the house.

The storm then took an easterly direction and struck the house of C. C. Oden. The timbers in the yard were beaten into counted chips and even the vegetables in the garden were torn from their roots. Mr. Oden was killed outright and so were his three daughters, aged 8, 11 and 9 respectively. Mrs. Oden received injuries from which she died later. The home of Mrs. Henry Wharton was not badly damaged. Then came the home of R. B. Quick. He went into cellar and he and his two children were injured and a mule killed but there were no fatalities there.

TORNADO IN ARKANSAS DEVASTATES AN ESTIMATED TWO MILES

Little Rock, Ark., April 8.—Specials to the Gazette from several towns in White and Cleburne counties, Ark., tell of a tornado which swept through that section Tuesday night leaving death and destruction in its path. The major portion of the country which the storm plowed its way is remote from telegraph, telephone or railroads. A correspondent wires from Searcy, Ark., tonight, that he had gone over a portion of the track of the storm and that trees were twisted from their trunks and houses demolished. Thus far it has been impossible to ascertain where the storm began but it is known that it raged in those two counties.

The latest reports are that nine persons are dead, three dying and three badly injured. The towns of Little Red, Albion, Bradford, Heber and Pangburn have been heard from thus far.

The dead:

JIM LEGGITT, Little Red.
JOE LEGGITT, Little Red.
TOM KING and wife, Little Red.
Three KING children.
Young lady, school teacher, who was boarding at King's.
A. C. WILLIAMS, Heber.

Injured—Infant child of King family.

New Orleans, April 8.—With the blowing out of 40 feet of cribbing at the Hymella crevasse today the situation there has become serious, and fears are expressed that unless the damage can be immediately repaired other portions of the 3,000 feet of work will be endangered by the strain placed upon it. Although material was hurried to the scene as soon as the piling gave way and work was hastened on the horseshoe started near where the cribbing yielded, little headway was made and the news late in the day was far from encouraging. The disaster occurred at the point where a barge yesterday afternoon collided with the cribbing. The water is going through the opening at a terrific rate and there is alarm lest other sections give way while efforts are being made to mend this break. Nearly everybody on the works is worn out and more men are wanted for the emergency. The river tonight stands at 20.1.

KING EDWARD SPENT THE DAY AT GIBRALTAR

By Associated Press.

Gibraltar, April 8.—King Edward arrived today from Lisbon. The ships dressed, manned sides and saluted.

The king, who wore a field marshal's uniform, and his suite landed later in the day. His majesty was received by the governor and by the naval and military staffs while royal salutes were fired. A procession was formed and the king drove through the streets, which were lined with soldiers and demonstrating crowds, to the neutral ground and on returning went to the government house.

The town and rock were illuminated tonight.

STATE INVESTIGATION OF STRIKE IN LOWELL

By Associated Press.

Lowell, Mass., April 8.—The investigation by the state board of arbitration and conciliation of the cotton industry in this city will begin tomorrow forenoon in the city hall but no one in this city tonight seems to know what methods will be pursued in conducting the inquiry. There is also a feeling on the part of both the employes and the millmen that the hearing will avail nothing so far as the real question is concerned. Both sides declare that they will not be influenced by any decision of the investigating board, and it is practically certain that any decision that the board may arrive at will receive but scant consideration.

The day about the mills passed quietly, and although several hundred Greeks gathered near the Lawrence Hosiery company this morning they immediately dispersed when requested to do so by the police.

There was no demonstration at any of the mills tonight.

[illegible] PLANS FOR TWO CLUB HOUSES

Plans are being drawn by the architects for two handsome and thoroughly equipped club houses to be erected by the United States Reduction & Refining company, one at Colorado City and the other at Florence, Colorado. The clubs will be for the use of employes of the company and the architects' instructions are to make the houses models of their kind.

The announcement was made at Colorado City yesterday morning and at the Standard mill it is stated, the Colorado City club house will probably be erected in the town on property owned by the company, but conveniently close to the mill.

The clubs will be operated in the same manner as other social clubs. None but employes of the company will be members but all employes are at liberty to join. The officers and directors of each club will be chosen by the members of the club and the company's connection is that it simply builds the club house and donates it for the use of the club. The clubs will be incorporated by the employes of each mill and they will be responsible for the management.

The building at Colorado City, according to the specifications for completed will cost $7,000 including the furnishing.

The building will be [illegible] stories in height, the material used being a cream colored brick. Each club house will contain bowling alleys, billiard rooms, card rooms, bath rooms, a reading room and library and a locker room. The Colorado City club house will be duplicated in every detail at Florence. Both club houses will be completed within 90 days. At Colorado City the United States Reduction & Refining company owns a number of town lots and the ground around the club house and the site at Florence will be beautified by an expert gardener.

The idea of a club house for employes has been successful wherever carried out, and some of the clubs in connection to the large mines of the state, notably that of the Gold Coin at Victor, and the Camp Bird at Ouray are known over the country. Not only are all the leading papers, magazines and periodicals to be found in the reading rooms, but well selected libraries like the shelves and easy chairs and divans make this department of the clubs the most popular with the men. Showers baths, as well as tub, are provided and in every instance the clubs offer accommodations rarely to be found except in the best athletic and social clubs in the country. Bowling, billiard and pool tables and the smaller games of pastime afford an amusement that keeps the club thronged after every shift comes off work. In spring, camps formed from the pleasures of town or city life the clubs have taken a place only second to that of the home.

The building of the club house at Colorado City is the first move in this direction by the large reduction company and Manager Fullerton of the Telluride in speaking of the plans of the United States Reduction and Refining company last evening spoke in unqualified terms of the pleasure which the management feel based on the success they had given him and it is possible that the company will be followed by other of the large companies here or elsewhere.

NEW YEAR'S WITH THE PRESIDENT

President Expects to Enjoy a Complete Cessation from Public Duties for the Next 6 Days.

By Associated Press.

Gardner, Mont., April 8.—President Roosevelt is in the Yellowstone park and for the next six days he expects to enjoy complete rest and freedom from public duties. He will be in almost constant communication with Secretary Loeb at Cinnabar, but nothing except of the gravest importance will be referred to him. NEW WAGE SCHEDULE

Portland Mills Adopting Scale Which Advances the Minimum for Inside Workers to $2.25.

A new wage schedule will soon go into effect at the Portland mill. At a meeting yesterday afternoon between President Byrne of the Portland company, Superintendent Finley of the mill, Charles Burr, representative of the Western Federation of Miners, and officers of the Mill and Smelltermen's union No. 125, an agreement was reached for a general increase. The new scale places the minimum wage, according to an announcement made last evening by Mr. Burr, at $2.00 for outside work and $2.25 for inside work. The original proposition advanced by the employes was $2.25 as the minimum for all work.

There are but four men, however, Mr. Burr states, now employed on outside work.

The mill is now paying a minimum of $1.85 per day, thus making the increase 40 cents for eight hours work per day. The complete schedule will be arranged at a meeting to be held this afternoon. The employes met first with the mill management Tuesday and the meeting was continued until yesterday. The millmen will come before General Manager Hugh W. Fullerton of the Telluride Reduction company May 1 with a request for a new wage schedule. The settlement with the Portland was received with satisfaction by the millmen when the news was made public yesterday. In the neighborhood of one hundred men are employed at the Portland.

Sixty Ann[illegible] Co[illegible] Pastorate

No definite arrangements have as yet been made by the First Presbyterian church for the securing of a new pastor, about 60 applications have been received for the pulpit made vacant by the resignation of Dr. W. H. T. Boyle several months ago, and the pastoral committee has cut the list of eligibles down to six or eight, from which a selection will be made, just just when is not known. John Lennox, who is chairman of the committee having the matter in charge, reported to the annual meeting of the congregation last night, that he had been corresponding with several ministers for the purpose of learning whether they would accept the position should it be offered to them. He states, however, that nothing definite had been done in the matter.

Dr. Boyle, who is now in St. Paul, Minn., recently sent a communication to Mr. Lennox in which he stated that he had been very successful in his new charge, his evening congregations increasing from 100 to 1,000.

Four elders were elected at last night's meeting, those whose term of office expired, having been elected to succeed themselves. They were John Lennox, Dr. James T. Estill, Charles McClain and H. H. Seldomridge.

The financial report for the year showed a collection of $13,000 from all sources. The membership of the congregation was reported to be 1070.

Several other matters were taken up and considered, among them being the new contribution to Emmanuel church. It was decided to pay the church $200 for the coming year. The condition of the Sunday school was also reviewed. It was reported to be in a very flourishing condition with a scarcity of teachers as the only drawback.

Election of officers for the ensuing year in the Social Science department of the Woman's club occurred yesterday afternoon during the regular meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mrs. Alberta Garlick Scott was re-elected chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth M. E. Polly, vice chairman and Mrs. Minnie E. Black, secretary.

The newly elected treasurer is Mrs. Aletta Craig. Executive committee, Mrs. Sara Coolidge Brooks and Mrs. Laila B. Sinton. Finance, Mrs. Ida M. Betts House, Mrs. Emma D. Russell. Editing, Mrs. Nellie E. Pyles. Membership committee (three years), Mrs. Carrie A. Terrill. Courtesy, Mrs. W. H. Lay. Entertainment, Mrs. Jeanette Bell Williamson.

Mrs. Eleanor F. Stark gave the paper of the day on "Poverty," the sub-topics being, first, "Methods of Treatment in Other Cities;" second, "Organized Charities;" third, "Friendly Visiting;" fourth, "Pauperism and Relief;" fifth, "Child-saving;" sixth, "Social Settlements."

Several present gave most conclusive evidence of the work and worth of the friendly visitor. Adequate relief in its largest sense was declared to be what will tend to lasting good. As soon as it is realized that the development of character will eliminate evil and afford training in self-control, then a great advance in morality is gained.

Numerous instances from personal experiences were cited and the meeting was one of the most earnest and instructive ever held by the department. Motion prevailed that a committee be appointed consisting of Mesdames Scott, Kerr and Felty to formulate plans looking toward the establishment of friendly visitors by the Social Science department.

As Mrs. A. F. Peavey, who was to have delivered the next paper, is still in the east, Mrs. Harrington of Denver, assistant secretary of the state board of charities and corrections has accepted an invitation to speak in Mrs. Peavey's stead. The subject will be "Crime." First, "Causes." Second, "Economic Conditions in Relation to Crime." Third, "Criminal Tendencies Among Boys." Fourth, "Women and Crime." Fifth, "Friendly Guardians for Boys and Girls." Sixth, "Boys Clubs." The date of the next meeting is April 22.

E. E. Nichols, Jr., mayor of Manitou, will go to Denver today to purchase a lot of 12-inch sewer pipe for the sewer main which is to be laid on Manitou avenue for a distance of about 2,000 feet. Mr. Nichols will also contract for the smaller pipe, and it is expected that a total of about 15,000 feet of pipe will be used. It is a question whether all the pipe necessary can be secured as it is wanted, on account of the factories being behind in their orders.

The work of digging the ditch will be started next week under the immediate supervision of Engineer E. A. Sawyer, who will have full charge of laying the sewer until its completion. If the pipe can be secured the plans are to have the pipe on Manitou avenue within before May 15, in order that the street may be in good shape by the time tourists begin to arrive in large numbers.

The town board of Manitou met last evening, although no business was transacted further than to authorize Mr. Nichols to take preliminary steps toward the laying of the sewer. No action was taken looking to issuing the bonds, but the council adjourned to meet April 14 to take up these matters more fully. It is expected, however, that the matter will be left to the proper committee to arrange for the advertising for bids on the bonds and this will probably not be done until after the newly elected council is inducted into office.

The bonds will be issued in the sum of $18,000, the rate of interest to be 4½ per cent. It is understood that several bond firms are waiting to put in their bids, and that there will be a good demand for the bonds.

CARRIE NATION RECEIVED ATTIRED IN WHITE GOWN

A number of persons who had counted on meeting Mrs. Carrie Nation personally during the reception announced for 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Elk hotel, were much disappointed.

Promptly at the hour designated Mrs. Nation descended to the parlor clad in a pure white gown, and for less than 15 minutes held an informal reception for the members of the W. C. T. U. During that time she shook hands with her guests and said a few words in some instances.

The parlor and corridor were crowded with people and there were quite a number in the dining room, as well. Outside as many as could possibly get near curiously peered in at the windows.

After the short space of time mentioned had elapsed, Mrs. Nation withdrew to her room, leaving instructions with the clerk not to send up any cards, as she could not receive anyone. This had been a standing order throughout the day.

[illegible] Masons Attending Reunion Meeting

A large number of Scottish Rite Masons are in Denver attending the semi-annual reunion which began in that city Tuesday. The meetings continue today and will end with a banquet tonight. Among the local Masons present are Dr. C. B. Arnold, Dr. D. H. Rice, A. G. Sharp, W. H. Hoagland, John Himebaugh, M. O. Barnes, W. H. Fitts, John Derg, John Friedline, Judge McCoach of Colorado City and others.

A team from Colorado Springs exemplified the ninth degree Tuesday and yesterday afternoon the twenty-first degree. Today the same team will confer the thirty-second degree upon a large class of candidates. The team is composed of Dr. C. B. Arnold, John Dern, W. H. Fitts, J. R. Friedline and Judge McCoach. It had been practicing for several days prior to the assembling of the conclave and was exceptionally well trained in the ritual of the order.

It is expected that several Masons will go to Denver today who have been unable to attend the ceremonies during the past two days, and a large number of Scottish Rite Masons of the city will likely be present at the feast tonight, which ends the celebration. The annual reunion of the Mystic Shrine will begin Friday and 30 or 40 from this city will attend. It is understood that there is a large number of candidates to take the degrees which will be conferred during the day.

SENTENCE [illegible] REPRIEVED [illegible]

Willis Clark and Earl Bullock, the two 13-year-old burglars, were sentenced yesterday to the State Industrial School for Boys until they shall have reached the age of 21 years.

Judge Orr, before whom they were arraigned, suspended their sentence, however, until April 18, at which time they will report to him. If they have behaved themselves during that time their parole will be extended again with instructions to report at another time. The boys were charged with having robbed several stores in Manitou. They took rings, and other articles to the value of about $30.

An unknown son may delay the settlement of the estate of Gottlieb Schwab, on which letters of administration were granted yesterday. The letters were issued to J. S. Myers, who filed a bond in the sum of $700. The deceased left no will and therefore did not make known what disposition he desired made of his property. It will now be administered and divided according to law. The unknown son, mentioned in the application for letters of administration, is supposed to have left home several years ago. He has not written home since that time and his name and whereabouts are unknown. He was the only one in the family besides the deceased. Advertisement will be made for him.

Mrs. Mary E. Macaffree was yesterday appointed the guardian of her son, Hector W. Macaffree in the probate court. Her son is one of the heirs mentioned in the will of his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine B. Cobb. He will receive $1,000 under the will and Mrs. Macaffree was appointed for the purpose of attending to its receipt through the probate court. She furnished a bond in the sum of $2,000.

County Physician H. L. Richardson yesterday filed a complaint against Mrs. Minnie Hickson, charging her with being insane. A hearing will be held this morning at 10 o'clock and the matter passed upon.

MAKING CLEAN SWEEP AT NEW COURT HOUSE

A force of men was put to work yesterday by the county commissioners, sweeping out the new county court house, preparatory to occupancy by the county offices.

"We are making preparations to move in by the 10th of the month," stated Major McAllister yesterday, "and we are getting the building swept out from top to bottom. We are now moving all the things to the new building that we can get along without, and we will follow with bag and baggage within 10 days."

TWO INTERESTING LECTURES NEXT MONDAY EVENING

On Monday evening, April 13, the people of Colorado Springs will have the opportunity of hearing at the Opera house two most interesting lectures on subjects appealing to the entire English-speaking world.

Both speakers are men well-known in the political world and are perfectly conversant with the subjects on which they speak.

Col. John F. Finnerty of Chicago will deliver his lecture on "American Citizenship," an address full of patriotic sentiment and enthusiasm.

Colonel Finnerty is well fitted to speak on this subject and his address will appeal to thousands in the west for his has been an active career.

As war correspondent, he was a participant in the Sioux wars of the early '70s, and other Indian wars of later date.

He was the personal friend of the gallant Sheridan, Crook, Custer and Thornburg and with them was a participant in the stirring events coincident with the making of the great west.

He was afterward a member of congress and when in that body in the early '80s, was one of the most fervent advocates of a stronger navy, and a bill introduced by him was the beginning of the new navy that made possible the glorious feats in the Spanish war.

On this same evening a lecture will be given on "The Irish Land Question," by Hon. Joseph Devlin, M. P., the youngest member of the British parliament, and an orator of great ability.

He has given great attention to the study of this question and his address will enable many to understand this subject, which is today one of the most important problems before the people of Great Britain and one on which we in this country will be glad to have authentic information.

Admission 50c; reserved seats on sale at Opera house office.

WARWICK CLUB WILL GIVE DANCE MONDAY

The Warwick club has sent out invitations for a dance at the Antlers hotel Monday evening. There will be a meeting of the club tonight, at which arrangements will be completed for giving the ball. It is proposed to make the function one of the most notable that the club has held, and as the Warwick parties have always been among the most delightful of the season much is anticipated by those who have received invitations for the coming party. The ball room will be especially decorated for the occasion, and nothing will be spared to make the ball a success in every way.

SECRETARY WRAY IS EXPECTED HOME TONIGHT

Henry Russell Wray, secretary of the chamber of commerce, is expected home either tonight or tomorrow morning from his two weeks' trip to California in the interests of the chamber of commerce. It is expected that he will have a number of plans to be carried out in the way of advertising the city and its surroundings as the principal object of his visit was to learn something of the methods employed by California resorts to advertise their attractions.

Andrew Carnegie has decided to increase his gift for a public library to be erected in this city from $50,000 to $60,000. This information was conveyed in a telegram received yesterday by Mayor Robinson from Louis H. Ehrlich who is at present in New York. As soon as Mr. Ehrlich learned of the selection of the site offered by General Palmer for the building on West Kiowa street, Mr. Ehrlich called upon Mr. Carnegie and induced the steel magnate to increase his gift to $60,000. Mr. Carnegie has been notified of the action of the library trustees in selecting a site and of the city council in appropriating $5,000 annually for maintenance.

Work has begun on the planting of trees under this year's contract, Patrick Lee, who had the contract for the same work last year, was at work yesterday planting trees around North park. All the trees have arrived and will be put out under the supervision of the street committee of the city council, of which Francis Capell is chairman. The contract calls for street trees at one dollar each and park trees at $2.50 each. An expenditure of $500 was authorized by the council at its last meeting for this purpose. The trees ordered will be set out as soon as possible; they will all be planted before the trees begin to leaf out.

[illegible] WEEK

The male choir of the Baptist church was delightfully entertained last evening by C. H. Barnes at his new residence, 1325 North Nevada avenue. At the conclusion of the regular weekly practice the members of the choir sat down to a pleasant repast of oysters, salads, ice cream, coffee and cake and enjoyed a very happy hour. Each guest was given an Easter favor in the shape of a chick, rabbit, duck or something similar. Mr. J. S. Miller sang delightfully as a conclusion to the evening's entertainment.

WILL REPEAT CANTATA AT THE GRACE CHURCH

The Grace church choir will repeat Stainer's holy week cantata, "The Crucifixion," given last Sunday night, in the church Friday evening. Clarence Sears will preside at the organ and Miss Beulah Whalto will render a violin selection.

The solo numbers will be sung by H. B. Davis, tenor; Marvin Gaylord, baritone, and George H. Hemus, bass. The choir of 40 voices will render all the choruses. Excellent work was done by the choir in the rendition of this musical masterpiece and all who enjoy musical worship will consider it a privilege to attend the beautiful service.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE.

It Had a Luxuriant Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.

The Father of his Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion were in vogue to conceal thinned hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair nor be bald, if he cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff can not be cured by scourging the scalp because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ.

NOT READY TO PROCEED IN THE DREYFUS AFFAIR

By Associated Press.

Paris, April 8.—The Dreyfus affair continues to fiercely agitate the newspapers but there is no indication that the government will further pursue the matter owing to the chamber's adverse vote. The war office today gave out a denial of the published report that War Minister Andre had actually begun the formation of an investigation committee. This denial is taken to strengthen the view that the government is not ready to proceed, but the anti-government newspapers assert that plans are on foot for the rehabilitation of Dreyfus to the point of his restoration to the army.

"Saved My Life and Kept Me from Insane Asylum."

Mrs. Wilcox is Now in Perfect Health Through No Other Agency Than

Paine's Celery Compound

The absolute need of an honest and genuine invigorator and health giver in the spring season is deeply impressed on the mind of every thinking and intelligent man and woman.

The happy cure of Mrs. J. E. Wilcox, of Winters, Cal., through the use of Paine's Celery Compound, created widespread astonishment and joy amongst her friends and neighbors who were exceedingly anxious regarding her condition.

The best medical treatment failed even to give Mrs. Wilcox a few days of relief from her sufferings of mind and body. At last, Paine's Celery Compound saved her from a terrible end and planted her feet firmly on the rock of health.

Read Mrs. Wilcox's letter of testimony, dear reader, and if you remain obdurate and unbelieving after such an earnest and convincing confession of cure, nothing but a direct act of Providence can snatch you from the dangers and perils of your position. Mrs. Wilcox says:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound did for me. Some years ago my head troubled me so that it seemed I should be crazy. It was caused by overstudy. I asked the advice of two doctors who gave me medicine to no effect, and I did not know what I would do. I did not want to see anyone, everything seemed so strange. I had a tired, lagging feeling, my bowels were out of order, my kidneys troubled me, and I felt badly, but before I had taken a half of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound I felt like a new person. Four bottles cured me, and I would recommend it to all who feel the way I did. I can't praise it half enough, for I know it saved my life and kept me from imprisonment in an insane asylum, which is as bad as death."

AS TO AN EXTRA SESSION.

FOR THE sake of the taxpayers of Colorado, it is to be hoped that it will not be necessary to call a special session of the legislature.

Such a session would cost from $50,000 to $75,000, and could be of unlimited length. Many lawyers in the assembly and out of it are of the opinion that the appropriation bill was unlawfully passed, in that it was signed by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate before it was enrolled and the various items properly inserted. This may constitute a serious flaw in the bill and prevent the payment of the appropriation. It also established a precedent for such careless and unlawful enactments in the future.

Notwithstanding this, however, if there is any way of avoiding an extra session of the legislature, the governor will be justified in doing it.

CRIPPLE CREEK RESULTS.

THE ELECTION results in the city of Cripple Creek are, beyond doubt, disappointing to the friends of good government. A mayor has been elected who is an open and avowed advocate of what is called a "liberal town." That is to say, that saloons, dance halls, gambling joints and other places of iniquity should be run with little or no restriction upon them.

In the late campaign the ministerial body, woman's clubs and other organizations of a high character were with the Democratic candidates, who had determined to close down the dives. On election day, however, the Republicans were enabled to muster a sufficient number of votes to elect the mayor and a part of their ticket.

Strangely enough, there are always a number of people in a community who believe that a wide-open town helps business. In other words, they think that the more money that goes into the coffers of the saloon keepers and gambling houses, thus keeping it out of the legitimate channels of trade, the better it is for the town.

There is at least one redeeming feature about the election, and that is the fact that three Democrats who will be in a position to greatly aid in keeping a clean city have been elected. These are the city marshal, attorney and police magistrate. If these men have the backing of the mayor and the city council, their efforts in behalf of decency and law and order will not be in vain.

A MATTER FOR THE NEW COUNCIL.

ONE OF the first things which will come before the new city council will be the arrangements for the completion of the new city hall.

In the absence of evidence to the contrary, it is assumed that the extra bond issue of $50,000 for the completion of this building was carried at Tuesday's election.

It behooves the council to make wise and economical use of this sum to the end that the building may be completed and fully furnished without any more requests for bonds. The issue voted on Tuesday is $50,000 more than the original estimates on the building, and every councilman ought to deem it his duty to the taxpayers to see that the building comes within this latest limit.

There are not wanting those to declare that the building will cost $200,000. It is to be hoped that they will be disappointed, for already a sufficiently large burden is being carried by the taxpayers for water, sewer and other public improvements.

The Gazette in the pursuance of its duty as a newspaper has been furnishing to its readers full and complete reports of the speeches made by President Roosevelt on his trip across the country. Some of these speeches are three columns or over in length, and while the Gazette is not of the same politics as the president, it appreciates the fact that many of its readers are, and that they desire complete reports of the addresses of the chief executive. The Gazette, by the way, is about the only Colorado paper that is printing these speeches in full.

Now that the election is over, it is to be hoped that the experiment may be made with oil rock for paving purposes. The dust problem is especially serious during the high winds of spring and fall, and now will be a good time to place this rock upon a selected portion of the streets and see how it acts both in wind and rain. Should it prove successful in keeping down the dust and not be offensive in other respects, a large use of it could undoubtedly be made upon the streets of Colorado Springs.

The national home for union carpenters ought to be located in Colorado Springs. There is no city in the country where climate is a specific for so many diseases as that of Colorado Springs. Nearly every affliction, with the exception of serious heart trouble, is benefited here, and, on the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number, Colorado Springs is undoubtedly the best place for the home.

It is reported that Governor Bailey of Kansas is considering the advisability of discontinuing the suit brought by the state of Kansas against Colorado over the water rights of the Arkansas river. In any event, Governor Bailey may be assured that this state is going to defend the rights of its people to the very end.

Boston papers are quite unhappy because the speeches made at their Home Market club banquet were boiled down in the New York papers to about a paragraph. Not everyone appreciates the Hub and its doings as a Boston man does.

Carter H. Harrison had his proverbial luck in Chicago on Tuesday, but won by a reduced plurality. It is probable that this is the last time that Harrison will tempt fate. He has an indorsement from the voters which ought to be sufficiently flattering to suit any man.

Senator Hume Lewis of Pueblo evidently knew what he was in the last general assembly for. He secured for Pueblo institutions about one-fourth of the entire appropriation.

Once in a while the Republicans of Colorado Springs show an amazing degree of common sense. It is when they elect a Democrat to have charge of the city funds.

HANNA IS HOPEFUL.

SENATOR HANNA is disappointed but not dismayed. The way in which Tom L. Johnson swept the city of Cleveland at Monday's election was decidedly irritating as well as humiliating to the statesman from Cuyahoga. He made a bitter personal fight on Johnson, bringing to bear all the political pressure of which he was capable. All the senators, representatives and office holders within the range of Hanna's activities were working might and main against Johnson, but all to no effect for the doughty Tom L. carried the day by nearly 6,000 votes. His hold on the city of Cleveland appears to be unshaken, and the voters have abundant confidence in his sincerity and honesty.

Senator Hanna declares, however, that the defeat will simply stimulate the Republicans to greater efforts in future campaigns. While they are being stimulated, however, we may rest assured that Tom Johnson will not be idle. The senator is still hopeful of carrying the county for the Republicans next fall; but there is nothing in election returns to warrant this hope. Marcus Aurelius has for once met his match.

When, 20 or 30 or 40 years hence, the old inhabitant looks back upon the annals of Colorado Springs, he will find it recorded in letters of light that in the year 1903 W. H. Hoagland, Democrat, carried Ward one by a majority of four votes.

The city of Washington has an anti-expectoration ordinance also. Inasmuch as Washington is in the hands of the national government, this may be considered as an act of congress on the subject.

The only use that Mrs. Nation seems to have for hatchets nowadays is to sell them at so much per.

Mark Hanna isn't so fond of the "stand pat" slogan when it comes to the mayoralty of Cleveland.

"GET HEALTHY-QUICK" RESORTS.

And now the steamers are bearing away hundreds of Americans to the "get-healthy-quick" concerns of Europe. Some will go on a starving diets, others on stuffing diets, some will drink vast quantities of water, others vast quantities of milk; some will take the "perfect-rest cures," others the "incessant-exercise" cures. And all will be vastly improved in appearance and will leave their respective "get-healthy-quick" concerns without a grudging thought about the money they have been relieved of by the hordes of bandits that run "cures." The time is not yet, but neither is it far distant, when cynicism will get a hearing on this matter of "cures." In days of old a robber went forth to rob. Nowadays a robber of the first class has his open habitat precisely like the honest citizen, and remains in it and hangs out a sign, and has great difficulty in attending to the things that pour in to beg him to relieve them of their goods. He is usually keeping a "get-rich quick" concern or a "get-healthy-quick" concern. At bottom the two industries are the same. They rest rock-founded upon the universal delusion that something can be got for nothing. A man who has obviously abused his health for 46 weeks of the year does well to devote the remaining six weeks to intelligent repentance for his physical sins. But he is "not as good as new," again and is the "cure" has wrought any benefit beyond what fresh air, sensible eating and regularity will effect anywhere, it has wrought it at the expense of his vitality. Further, instead of having set him in the way of permanent good behavior, the "cure" has encouraged him to think he can do as he pleases and can always return to find the health of youth again. What with its "painkillers that strangle the kindly if cruel warnings against excess, and its "cures" that lull to sleep the prudence begot of melancholy experiences with bad health, the medical profession seems to be in a fair way to deserve the worst its critics within as well as without its ranks are saying of it.—(Editorial in Collier's Weekly.

SAVING TIME IN EDUCATION.

From the moment that the number of years required for the attainment of the degrees of doctor of medicine and bachelor of laws was increased at some of our leading universities the necessity of securing the preliminary degree of bachelor of arts at as early an age as possible was widely recognized. While the standard of attainments needed for admission to the college proper should not be lowered young men must be enabled to conform to it at the age of 16. This end can only be achieved by a readjustment of the studies pursued, not only in the higher but also in the primary schools. President Eliot and Professor Paul H. Hanus, of Harvard university, have lately made some useful suggestions on the subject. Professor Hanus insists that the emphasis now laid in primary schools on arithmetic and English grammar should be diminished until, by a child's tenth year, these studies are dropped altogether. Beyond simple arithmetic and beyond the fundamental facts of English grammar he thinks, a child should not go. Not only would he have the course of studies which a boy is to pursue at college chosen for him at an early stage of his school life but he holds that as the boy approaches the end of his school training, the professional career which he is ultimately to follow should be kept in view. If that were done, and if a part of the time spent in the college proper were devoted to professional studies—an arrangement already countenanced at some of our leading universities—the time prescribed for the attainment of a degree in law or medicine might be abbreviated. To put the whole matter in a nutshell, if a boy is to become a doctor or a lawyer, the work of preparation should be begun at an early age. President Eliot evidently thinks that if the whole scheme of school instruction were reformed the age of 23 would be by no means the lowest limit at which a young man might graduate from a professional school.—(Harper's Weekly.

MONEY AND THE TREASURY.

It has been hinted that Secretary Shaw would resume his policy of permitting municipal and state bonds to be substituted for United States bonds as security for government deposits. This is probably based on the fact, already announced by the Wall Street Journal, that the secretary would return to the policy of substitutions whenever the emergency should arise. But it was only a few weeks ago that he requested the bank depositories that had made substitutions under his order of last fall, to replace the state and municipal bonds so as to return to the regular custom of the department, and there seems to be no reason why he should again reverse his policy now.

While Secretary Shaw will again permit substitutions to relieve acute money market conditions so much may be depended upon this does not necessarily mean that he would do this now, so soon after he directed the banks to return to United States bonds. On the contrary, officials of depository banks declare that it would be far better to reserve that measure of relief to meet in the year when conditions would be more acute. The secretary's time for action is when the situation is most threatening. Ordinarily he should leave the money market to run its own course.—(Wall Street Journal.

SOUTHERN WOMEN ARE ACTIVE.

The extent to which the always conservative women of the south have given themselves to participation in socio-political movements—such as the reform of child labor, public schools, temperance and woman suffrage—is one of the puzzling phenomena of the modern woman movement. At New Orleans, this week, hundreds of representative women of suffrage proclivities are assembling to hold the annual convention, which it is purposed for this reason to make a noteworthy event in the history of the movement. Although to the casual observer there does not seem to be much cause to make the occasion one of unequivocal rejoicing over the present prospects for advance in the United States; yet it is safe to predict that the optimistic suffragists are certain to reveal some special source for felicitating over the results of their year's work in the belated reform. The recent defeats show a marked gain nevertheless, it is affirmed, and the investment during the year of the women of Australia with complete suffrage, including the right to sit in parliament, has cast a radiant glow into the most cheerless corners. It is held to be a good cause for rejoicing, too, that the national suffragists are to enjoy the hospitality of the sunny south and especially that they are meeting in New Orleans, which has so recently favored women's participation in public affairs by granting the right to vote on all questions affecting property interests to taxpaying women.—(Boston Transcript.

SHORT STORIES

Opposed to Modern Bank Methods.

One of the first adjuncts to civilization when it first reached Pine Hill city, on the western frontier, was a bank an institution with the workings of which some of the residents were not familiar. One of its first depositors was an old man named Johnson. A few days after making his deposit he wanted money and entered the place with a gun in his hand.

"Want some money today?" queried the president. "Well, it's ready for you."

"Say, I don't understand," exclaimed the old man as he backed off. "I'm here to hold this bank up for $30."

"But you don't have to. Just sign this check and I'll hand you your money."

"And I don't yell or shoot?"

"No."

"And the sheriff don't come after me?"

"No. Put your name to this."

"I can't do it—can't do it nohow, said the old man, with a choke in his voice. "If that's the new way of doin' things I'm out of it. I want my money but I want it in the old way."

"Well, have it the old way, then."

The old man tramped forward to the cashier's window, rested the muzzle of his gun on the ledge and yelled out:

"Come down or you are a dead man!"

"Certainly. Here's $30."

"And—and is that all there is to it?"

"That's all."

"Then I'll be hanged if I want it," he said, and he threw the money back and went out doors and sat down on a barrel of sugar in front of a grocery and set down on a barrel of sugar in front of a grocery and shed tears.—Chicago Chronicle.

Numbers Saved Him.

A reporter who was sent to see Mr. Carnegie on an important public question was repeatedly refused admittance to the house. He finally sought out a gentleman who was a personal friend of Mr. Carnegie to help him out.

In the course of conversation this gentleman handed him his card. Immediately the reporter was struck with a bright idea, and wishing his genial acquaintance goodby, repaired once more to the Carnegie mansion and presented both his own card and that of Mr. Carnegie's friend. The great doors swung open and a gracious reception was accorded the newspaper man by the master of the house.

"Young man," said Mr. Carnegie, "do you know that 16 reporters have called to see me today about this very question and that I refused to see any one of them?"

"I surely ought to know that Mr. Carnegie, for I was the whole 16," responded the journalist.

He got the information he wanted.—Russell's Weekly.

She Was Born for a Soldier.

There is a servant girl on the upper West Side who is eligible to join the Amazon corps if one is ever attached to the United States army. She has the first requisite of a good soldier. She knows how to obey orders.

When her mistress went out the other afternoon she warned the girl to admit no one but members of the family. An hour later a workman came to put a new water pipe on the outside of the house. To take down the old one it was necessary to pull out the braces at every floor. All went well until he reached the particular floor on which was the flat left in charge of the girl. When he rang for admittance then he was challenged with the usual "Who goes there?" or words to that effect. He explained his mission.

"Can't come in," said the amazon.

He explained again, adding that if the new pipe was not put up and there should be rain in the night there would be trouble for everyone in the apartment house.

"I have my orders—was the only response he got through the closed door.

The janitor tried his persuasive powers, and then the janitor's wife was sent under a flag of truce to confer with the enemy.

"Orders is orders," said the servant forcibly, if ungrammatically.

But the best soldier sometimes falls a victim to the enemy's strategy. At 4 o'clock one of the children of the family came home from school. The workman tiptoed upstairs behind her and when the servant opened the door for the child he made a quick charge and got inside. His work was done in two minutes, but he retreated under a heavy fire of denunciation from the outmaneuvered amazon.—(New York Sun.

Why They Got Up.

"Say, I had a funny experience today," said Trotterdon to his friend Blotterdon, as they met on a street corner for a quiet chat.

"Let's have it," said Blotterdon with an air of resignation, for they seldom met but Trotterdon had a "funny experience" to tell of.

"Well, you know that restaurant I go to for my luncheon," began Trotterdon.

"Yes, that cheap place on a side street—a bowl of soup and two rolls for a cents, and everything extra for 2 cents. I know it well, for paradoxically, it has often made me sick," responded his friend.

"Now, wait until I get through. I went into the restaurant today for my dinner. There was only one seat vacant and the other three at the table were occupied by women. I went in and sat down, and as soon as I did the women looked at me, got up and walked out."

"My goodness, man, what was the matter?" asked Blotterdon, in anxious tone.

"Oh, nothing much from what I could gather. It seems that they were only eating."

So Blotterdon thought it was up to him to buy the cigars.—(Philadelphia Telegraph.

Some Political Prayers.

The Philadelphia Record recalls some political prayers made by chaplains of legislative bodies. It was inoffensive but in poor taste, when a chaplain in the Delaware legislature prayed "Oh Lord, thy servants are in a deadlock. Give them the key." During the last Cuban insurrection a chaplain in a legislature prayed "That the United States might supply with arms, if necessary, those in Cuba who were struggling for liberty," and that we "might insist upon upholding the Monroe doctrine." The chaplain of the Illinois house prayed God to "contract the capacious maw of the penal, reformatory, charitable, and educational institutions of Illinois. May they learn to be content with less money, and may we who refuse to worship a golden calf also refuse to worship gold in any form." The chaplain of a Populist convention in Arkansas prayed that the state might be delivered from Democratic control. In the Colorado legislature Dean Peck prayed that the Populists and Democrats might be resigned to their fate. A Populist chaplain in Kansas prayed God to "palsy the brain and still the heart of the treasonable conspirators," to-wit, the Republicans. In a Massachusetts campaign a minister prayed for the triumph of righteousness, and then broke out "Oh Lord, what's the use of beating about the bush? Give us Briggs for Governor."

A VEIN OF HUMOR

More Whys.

Oh, mamma, when I ask in school
The pretty teacher these
And other things that puzzle me,
Why don't she tell me, please?

Don't you think teachers ought to know
Why things have such queer names?
How can the bachelor's button grow?
What sets the sun in flames?

Why does the cow-slip in the lane
And don't she ever fall?
And if the mullen always leaves,
Why does she come at all?

What does the morning glory for?
Who wants to marigold?
What was it that the mignonette
And if sweet William hold?

And are there pawnslips in the woods?
What does the holly-hock?
Does it like the lady's-slipper more
To wake the four-o-clock?

Do pussy willows get out fall
Down by the river, say?
What country are those blue flags for
That grow so tall and gay?

Who puts the fox gloves on, mama?
And is the larkspur sharp?
How loud can trumpet flowers blow?
And can they play a harp?

And does the dandi-lion roar?
Does the cat-nation fight?
Does she like Carrie Nation, too,
Smash everything in sight?

Sometimes a wife comprehends the state of her husband's mind by the circumlocutions he may be indulging in while employed at some uncongenial task, as is illustrated by the following:

"What are you doing, Harry?"

"Opening a can of tomatoes."

"What are you opening it with?"

"A can opener, of course. Do you think I am using my teeth?"

"No, dear, but I do know that you are not opening with prayer."—(Detroit Tribune.

Charming Hetty Green.

I'd like to marry Hetty Green
Nay, do not think me base,
I am not little souled nor mean
'Tis not her wealth I'd chase
I grant that money isn't bad,
But not for that alone
Would I be very, very glad
To claim her as my own.

Compelled from place to place to roam
A weary wanderer
She tells the world she has no home
Therefore I yearn for her
Oh, I would give up everything
To wed with Hetty Green,
For with the coming of the spring
She has no house to clean.

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given; her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham is inclined to the belief that our girls are pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurances nowadays in our public schools and seminaries; less learning and more health needed.

The El Paso County Medical society met last night at the Cliff house, Manitou, as the guest of the proprietor, E. E. Nichols, Jr., who tendered the members of the society a banquet. The attendance was large, there being about 30 present. The business transacted was mainly routine, and the subject of the evening was "Reminiscences of Practice in El Paso County." Several of the doctors told of their experiences and Doctors Hart, Solly and Ogilbee gave especially interesting talks on the subject.

The matter of establishing a nurse's training school was discussed quite fully and it was the unanimous sentiment that such a school would be of great benefit and the members were all in favor of the general proposition. In order that some definite action may be taken towards establishing the school the president of the society, Dr. Dennis, was authorized to appoint a committee of five with himself as chairman to confer with like committees from other organizations interested in the movement. It is understood that no action will be taken in the matter until the return of President Slocum of Colorado college, who is now in the east.

The society tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. Nichols for his hospitality in opening the Cliff house and in providing the excellent banquet for the society.

VOORHEES W[illegible] BE TAKEN CARE OF [illegible] WAY [illegible]

The city council will meet on the evening of April 20 and the vote of Tuesday for city officers will then be canvassed had the official returns certified to. The canvassing of the vote will be followed by the induction of the newly elected officials into office. They will qualify, in all probability, on the day following.

The mayor and council both have appointments to make, but it is semi-officially announced that there will be few changes.

Chief of Police King will remain and few if any changes will be made in either the police or fire departments. The efforts of the employes of these two branches of the city government have been so energetic in favor of the Republican ticket that it is conceded by all of the managers that the best recognition that can be given them is to allow their jobs to remain undisturbed.

As one of the members of the committee expressed it yesterday, the Republican ticket, as soon as it was nominated, had 400 workers in the field. There are about 100 names of petty officers on the city pay rolls, and, as each desires naturally to retain his job, his services and the services of members of his family and his friends—averaging about four in each case—are thrown to the support of the ticket.

The Republican headquarters on Pike's Peak avenue, maintained during the campaign, will be closed today. Yesterday the two office rooms were thronged with workers drawing their pay, the amounts ranging from $2 to several times that figure, according to the value of the services rendered. Three fat check books were made out and the checks for this purpose distributed. The campaign and election for the Republican party was costly.

It Was Expensive.

Ike S. Harris, Independent and Citizens candidate for mayor, is also heavily out of pocket, as his expenses in the printing and distribution of his circular letter addressed to voters and thrown in every house in Colorado Springs, for the boxes of cigars placed around the city, and other expenses ran up into the thousands. The least expense was that borne by the Democratic committee, as the work was attended to by citizens interested in the welfare of the ticket and not looking for emolument.

Judge Ira Harris, the newly elected mayor, has been so busily engaged in the Stratton will case, that he states he has not had time to look into appointments and the distribution of patronage which confronts a new occupant of the office.

The talk yesterday concerned principally the election of W. H. Hougland as city treasurer, to succeed the Republican candidate, John A. Voorhees. There was no attempt to disguise the fact that the defeat of Voorhees was unexpected and is being taken with bad grace by Republicans generally. Especially is this so with the machine, and Voorhees will be taken care of at the patronage counter. While nothing authoritative can be gathered so early, it is the expression that the former city treasurer will be given an appointive office, the best in the gift of the administration. A movement is on foot to name him as successor to Water Commissioner E. C. Davis, to which office a salary of $100 a month is attached. It is not certain if Voorhees will accept the appointment. By his exposure of the methods in vogue in the office of Building Inspector E. G. Coray, Davis has rendered himself unpopular, and the criticism has taken the form that it was imprudent, to say the least, to spring the irregularities, resulting in criminal prosecution before the election.

Job for Voorhees.

"If Voorhees wants it, he can have a good job at city hall," said one of the committee, "as the party feels that his defeat was due to a mistake. We, at least, have the utmost confidence in him."

R. E. Chambers, chairman of the Republican city central committee, said:

"I deplore the fact that Voorhees lost. I believe, as far as I personally know, that he was an honest and capable official; but the impression seemed to prevail in the public mind that he was not honest and capable and they would not have him. Voorhees has furnished a wholesome lesson for the future. It is that all conventions should consult the public before nominations are made."

Expert Accountant Bach is still working on the books of Building Inspector Coray and shortly after the new administration takes office will continue the investigation into the office of the water commissioner and will present a detailed report of what he has discovered. Although the machine has made promises to Coray in regard to the prosecution, he is considered a political corpse and there will be no more recognition in the award of pie to him. The work of Coray for the Republican ticket in the past was what won him the appointment as city building inspector.

[illegible] MAY PURCHASE INTEREST IN MORLEY GROCERY

I. Harry Stratton may purchase an interest in the Shields-Morley Grocery company of this city.

He stated to the Gazette last night that he had been offered an interest in the business by J. G. Shields, the president, and that he would pass upon the proposition before considering any other.

"I have had several business offers," he stated further, "but I have not as yet made up my mind respecting the matter. I shall, however, give the offer from Mr. Shields first consideration.

"The other offers have come from other cities but I would rather not go into them in detail at this time. I now have my money on deposit here, and I will consider carefully any proposition before making an investment.

"I expect, however, unless my plans are greatly altered, to make Colorado Springs my home, and will doubtless purchase a place here after my return from the east.

"I leave for Oshkosh, Wis., on Saturday or Monday and will be gone three or four weeks. Mrs. Stratton has been ill for some time and our stay may be protracted on that account. I will doubtless have a more definite idea of my plans for the future when I return."

The Shields-Morley company is one of the biggest wholesale houses in the west. The company has a capitalization of $200,000, with Mr. Shields the largest stockholder. Mr. Stratton has been in the employ of the company, as cashier, about a month and still retains the position.

Mr. Stratton received $235,000 for himself out of the $350,000 paid over to him by the executors of the Stratton estate, as the compromise settlement of the will contest.

[illegible] AGAINST THE ROBINSON DRUG CO., WHICH IS A TEST CASE AND CAUSE TO BE THE DRUG STORES OF THE [illegible] LIQUOR.

A suit was filed in the office of the district clerk yesterday which has for its purpose the prohibition of the sale of liquor in the drug stores of Colorado Springs. The Prohibition alliance is behind the suit, which is instituted against Minnie S. M. Robinson and the Robinson Drug company. The plaintiffs are D. G. Judd, A. S. Blake, F. C. Chamberlain, John O. Cruff, Laura E. Farrar, George S. Phelps, Gertrude Longfield, John Robertson, Fred L. Davis and W. H. Day.

The complaint sets forth the "liquor clause" of the deeds to property in Colorado Springs, which declares in substance that no liquors shall be sold as a beverage on the premises, and that a violation of the provision shall make the deed null and void. It asks that an injunction shall issue directed to the defendants, especially against Mrs. Robinson, who, the complaint declares, permits the sale of liquors on the property owned by her, with full knowledge of the clause in her deed, and of its violation.

The complaint sets forth the facts surrounding the original platting of the city in 1871 and the determination that was then reached by the incorporators respecting the sale of liquors. If the injunction is granted it will restrain property holders from renting or leasing property to anyone for the conduct of a drug store in which liquors will be sold as a beverage.

The petitioners state that they are property owners in Colorado Springs, consider themselves bound by the "liquor clause," and are opposed to the sale of liquor. While the petition is directed only against the Robinson Drug company, it affects every drug store in the city, where liquors are sold, and is meant to be a test case.

Dr. F. C. Chamberlain, who is one of the petitioners, stated yesterday: "The object of the suit is to prevent the renting of property by property holders, for the purpose of selling liquor, whether such liquors are sold in a drug store or in any other manner. The courts have held that a saloon was unlawful in this city for the reason that the use of the premises for such purposes was in violation of the liquor clause in the deeds.

"We believe that the sale of liquors in a drug store is a violation of this clause just as much as the sale of liquor in a regular saloon. We believe that we could have proceeded against Mrs. Robinson under the clause itself, which declares the deed to be null and void, in case the clause is violated, and the owner liable to forfeiture. We did not wish to proceed in a fashion which would bring any loss to Mrs. Robinson, however, and under the advice of Attorney J. F. Sanford we have brought our proceeding to secure an injunction. If this injunction is granted, as we have every reason to believe it will be, Mrs. Robinson will then be in contempt of court if she still permits liquors to be sold on her premises; and it may be that if she still allows it to be sold, we may proceed under the forfeiture clause.

"If we win in this suit, we will then bring suits against all the owners of drug store property where liquors are sold in the city, with the same object in view."

SINKING IN NEW HAVEN

Lessees Are Greatly Pleased With Their Proposition—The War Eagle Leasing Company is Increasing Its Production—Jennie Sample Developments.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, April 8.—The main working shaft of the New Haven on Raven hill is being sunk an additional 100 feet, and heavier machinery will be added to the present equipment. This lease has been making money for the lessees right along, and they are of the opinion that they have a very good proposition before them. The New Haven adjoins the Jo Dandy property, a steady producer, and it is thought the ore body on the New Haven is an extension of the big Jo Dandy ore shoot.

The War Eagle Leasing company is increasing its production, and at the present time averages around 50 tons of ore per day, which comes from the recent find in the 60-foot level below the main shaft. The ore being broken is nearly 30 feet wide, but the extent of the shoot has not been ascertained, and from present appearances is liable not to be for some time to come. The management is now working on a raise from the level for the surface, and as soon as this is completed sinking will be resumed. A large plant of machinery will be installed over the new shaft.

Lessee Mischke, who is operating on the west end of the Prince Albert on Beacon hill, in the open cut, is making money screening the surface dirt, and he sends out some 25 tons of dirt per month, from which he receives returns of $18 in gold to the ton.

The Findley company is today putting in a new ore house on the south side of the main shaft house. This spurt of enterprise is necessary to accommodate the largely increased output of this property.

Lessees operating on the Jennie Sample property, located on Raven hill, are pushing development work as fast as possible, and only shipping enough ore to pay the current expenses of the property. The lessees are now working on an upraise from the fifth level to the fourth level, where they expect to prove up some rock started some time ago. They are now breaking three feet of ore in the upraise, from which they receive returns of $25 to the ton in gold.

McCall and associates, operating on the north end of the Gold Dollar Consolidated company, located on the east slope of Beacon hill, are making occasional shipments of medium grade ore, the lessees just sending out another shipment, that from assays taken, will give them $30 to the ton in gold.

GOLDFIELD MEN DEVELOP SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY

Col. Law Ginger returned yesterday morning from Sonora, Mexico, where he has been in the interests of the Gold Coin Prospecting & Development company. Mr. Ginger will return to the scene of operations in Mexico after the meeting of the stockholders of the company and that of the Gold Coin-Santa Rosa Mexican Mining company, one of the subsidiary companies of the Gold Coin. This meeting will be held in this city April 20. Before returning to Mexico, Col. Ginger will go to Boston to assist in the organization of another company to be known as the Gold Coin-Mesa Mexican Mining company.

The Santa Rosa mine at San Javier is now producing large quantities of both high grade and low grade ores and the high grade is being sacked at the present time ready to send to the Yaqui river smelter which is located about 14 miles from the mine. This smelter is not yet completed but when it is it will have a capacity for treating 400 tons of ore daily. It is expected that the company operating the smelter will begin to receive ore by June 1.

The low grade ore from the Santa Rosa mine will be treated at the mine and the management is now experimenting to determine the best methods of treatment to be used on these ores.

The Mesa property has been developed by the company and is proving to be a valuable proposition, according to Col. Ginger, the ore consisting of silver, gold and copper and existing in great deposits, called by the natives "Salom." As soon as the company is organized it is proposed to install a heavy plant of machinery which is already purchased and ready to be loaded on the cars for shipment to the scene of operations. It will be shipped direct from the manufactory to the mine.

The field force of the company has recently been increased by the addition of John G. May, a graduate of the Colorado State School of Mines, and for the past three years consulting engineer for the Veluridena mines in Durango, Mexico. Mr. May assumes the superintending of the Santa Rosa mine and will be the consulting engineer for all the properties of the Gold Coin company.

MINING NEWS SENT DOWN FROM CAMP

J. H. Riley, who was granted a lease on the Gould property a short time ago, is doing considerable prospecting work in the different shafts on the property, especially in the old May shaft which was sunk in the early days. The other portion of the Nil Desperandum and Rhinoceros claims are under lease to the Ophelia Tunnel company.

It is reported that H. P. Russell, leasing on the Princess Alice property, has opened up the extension of the Last Dollar vein in the Ruhl claim of the Princess Alice company. The depth of the shaft is now practically 1,300 feet and for a distance of 400 feet a vein of ore about four feet wide is said to have been followed.

Connection is being made between the fourth and fifth levels of the Jennie Sample property on Raven hill for the purpose of securing a circulation of air. Lessee Babbitt will, as soon as the connection is made, start work in the north drift from the fifth level.

NEWS FROM THE GRANITE DISTRICT

James McGoff has got the best of the water in the Little Troy and will now push his drift to the ore shoot. He calculates that 20 feet more drifting will take him there.

The New Years station and stamp at a depth of 215 feet is finished and drifting will be pushed with vigor until the veins are cut. The plant of machinery will be completed this week and in time for the hoisting of ore.

The Hudson people are driving a drift to the east on the lead from the bottom of their shaft which is 145 feet in depth. They are encountering some very good mineralized matter that shows well for a paying proposition.

Manager Fenton of the Prudential Mining company, has the shaft on the Spring lode to a depth of 100 feet, and will cut a station at this point. There is 18 inches of ore in the shaft that assays $200 per ton, which they are now storing for shipment.

The Pacific people are running drifts each way from the shaft on the Gopher, drift to the east is now driven 60 feet, and the vein shown to be three feet and 10 inches wide. Ten inches of it is good hard ore that assays over $100 per ton, and three feet of mill dirt that shows by five tests a value of $20 per ton. The drift to the west has been driven 70 feet on the vein and is some narrower; it is about three feet wide and six inches of hard ore shows up in this drift with two feet of mill dirt that carries values about the same as the drift to the east.

The Washington management is well pleased with the showing of mineral; the strike made a week ago is staying with them. They will ship a car of high grade ore from it in a short time. The shaft that is being sunk on the John Walkenshaw is now down to a depth of 65 feet. When the 75-foot mark is reached a station will be cut and a crosscut run to intersect a well-known vein of high grade ore. The new shaft on the Yankee Blade mine is down to a depth of 35 feet and the rich streak of ore stays with them. The latest assay had on it gave $513 per ton in gold.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

The Diversions of Lent.

One of the most remarkable features in up-to-date society is the disappearance of the penitential observance of Lent.

Not long ago people of no particular religious propensities used to decline to dine out or go to theaters at this season, while weddings and dances were absolutely unheard of. People were supposed to cease not only from doing what they ought not to do, but from doing many things which it is quite lawful to do. It was defined as the season for "giving up." But, speaking from a society point of view, Lent is much less honored in the observance than it used to be. Society refuses to take the period of abstinence seriously, and the king himself, the head of the established church, sets the example by giving a dance in Lent.

Now, most religious observances can be traced back to some common sense natural law of hygiene, and Lenten abstinence, to put it on a strictly material footing, is an example of this.

Any physician will tell you that more people die annually from the results of over-eating than succumb to excess in drinking. No one, of course, scruples to confess to a slight indigestion, yet nobody will own to feeling a little mixed after too much champagne. Fasting is an invaluable custom, for it enables our over-worked digestion to recuperate. It is common sense natural law applied to the noblest spiritual uses, for the true religious function of fasting is to detach the soul from mere bodily gratification. But man, being a "weak vessel," dislikes fasting, and seeks in every way to evade it, even when spiritual penalties and social custom enforce it. We all admire those who carry religious observances into their daily life; but there are an astonishing number of people who can manage to combine an outward observance of Lenten fasting with a keen gastronomical appreciation of appetizing menus.

The cult of certain preachers is one of the few observances of Lent which still prevail in society, and fashionable women hover around the pulpits of the favored divines much in the same way as they embrace Paderewski at the stage door, shower bouquets on Kubelik or run mentally amuck over some other temporary favorite.—A "Countess," in London Outlook.

How to Form a Library.

A bookstore contains a collection of books, but it is not a library. A library is an organism, developing side by side with the mind and character of its owner. It is the home of his spirit, and is thus furnished progressively in accordance with the progress of his mental life.

Then, one book naturally leads to another by unforeseen laws or accidents of association. We will suppose, for example, that you have decided to begin your library with Lamb's "Essays of Elia," and I cannot imagine a library better begun. Supposing, too, that you find Lamb the sympathetic, friendly writer most properly-constituted readers have found him, you will not have gone far before you will find him awakening your curiosity about certain book-cronies of his, and you will probably be inquiring at your lending library for Sir Thomas Browne's "Religio Medici," or Sir Philip Sidney's "Romeo," or Izaak Walton's "Compleat Angler," and I should be surprised if your reading of Lamb did not end in your adding these three rarely delightful writers to your bookshelf. While you would probably not follow Lamb in all his bookish whims, and would find that you have no use for his "Margaret, Duchess of Newcastle," or even Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy," still, it would be strange if his pardon for the old Elizabethan dramatists did not lead you to look up Marlowe and Webster and Ford and Dekker for yourself. There, at a bound, you are knee-deep in the flowery meadows of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. You might well decide, with many good judges, that Lamb, in the ardor of discovery, overestimated the secondary and lesser Elizabethans. You might find that they do not appeal to you at all, or only here and there. In the latter case, Lamb, himself, has anticipated your need, by his finely selected "Specimens," one of the masterpieces of critical anthology which might well find a place on your shelf. Lamb, too, would naturally introduce you to his own contemporary intimates, and you could not read him and not be wanting to know more about Wordsworth and Coleridge and Hazlitt. So one real book is vitally related to the whole cosmos of literature, and spreads its roots about the whole globe of knowledge, and its branches into the farthest heaven of art.—Richard Le Gallienne in April Success.

A Journalist's Tramp in Europe.

In 1901 a gathering of the newspaper men of Vienna happened to discuss at one of their meetings the advantages of pedestrian tours for acquiring a thorough acquaintance with the real conditions of a country and the life of its people. Out of this conversation grew the enterprise in which Paul D. Deutsch has been engaged since September 1, 1901. It was decided that one of the Vienna journalists should be chosen by lot to make the complete tour of Europe on foot in 1,000 days. He was to pass through every country, was to give as close attention as circumstances permitted to the condition of its people, their habits and customs and the influence upon them of their environment.

It was expected that the journey would be about 25,000 miles. If it is completed by May 1, 1904, four years after the date of starting from Venice, the traveler is to receive a present of 40,000 florins, or about $16,000. If he does not complete the journey within the time limit he will have to content himself with the possible profits of the book in which he is to describe his journey, which will be published at the expense of the Comite des Journalistes Viennois.

The lot fell to Mr. Deutsch, and when the approaching May 1 arrives he will have been engaged on his long tramp for three years. He arrived in Paris the other day and had a cordial reception from the newspaper fraternity of that city. They were greatly interested in the many stories he told of the adventures that have fallen to his lot during his peregrinations thus far.

When he left Vienna by train on May 1, 1901, he went straight to the southern frontier of Austria-Hungary, and began his walk through the countries of the Balkan peninsula. He next wandered across Russia to the Urals, made his way over Germany, Holland and Belgium and crossed from Calais to Dover and tramped through Great Britain.

He has still before him France, Spain, Italy and Austria, or about 5,000 more miles. He is well in advance of the schedule time, and thinks there is no doubt that he will be able to complete his task and return to Vienna before May 1, 1905.

Mr. Deutsch has been greatly helped on his way by the fact that he speaks six European languages. He has generally been well received everywhere, though he had some trouble in Roumania, where many of the people declined to sell him food at any price.

One peasant there fired at him, but no damage that could be discovered. The traveler was slightly wounded in the foot and the shoulder. Near the Siberian border he was bitten by a venomous snake and was unconscious for several hours.

In the wilderness bordering the Ural mountains he also had a very unlucky experience for he miscalculated the quantity of food supplies he needed and was compelled to exist for a number of days upon nothing but wild fruits. On the whole he has had excellent health, but has lost 4 pounds in weight since he started on his remarkable journey.—New York Sun.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

The mining stock market yesterday showed additional strength but trading was light in both the mines and prospect lists as well as in the miscellaneous department. Prices were higher all along the line, this being true in the stock in which there was no trading as well as in the active ones which were in demand at higher prices.

Aracia was one of the strong stocks, advancing slightly on small sales, a net gain of ⅛ over previous sales. The stock sold at 2½. Elkton was the heavy lift trader on the list and 12,000 shares sold at 3c. El Paso was lower at 58 with light sales. Golden Cycle sold slightly lower at 5.75, and Isabella remained strong at 16½. Lexington held its own at 4½ and Portland and Vindicator were held at the high prices of the past few days, but there was no trading in either of the stocks.

In the prospect department Independence was the principal feature, about 1,000 shares changing hands, but there was no trading in the active ones which were in demand at higher prices. This stock sold at 2½. Old Gold sold in a fraction on light trading, either up or down. Thomas was also stronger at 3¼. Keystone, although no sales were recorded, was held at higher prices and the bid price yesterday was the same price of the day before.

Only three stocks were traded in in the miscellaneous department and these at unchanged prices.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report from J. S. Bache & Co. to Otis & Hough.

New York, April 8.—Market opened about closing prices and developed slightly finer tone, but after the first hour there was some pressure to sell by traders and there seemed to be some good selling and realizing in spots. The Steels issues received excellent support. Amalgamated was sold down on the sharp decline in metal abroad and on lack of support given to the stock here. The traders attacked it and ruled heavy all through the session. Sugar rallied probably on buying by shorts and some announcement of settlement of the trade difficulties were looked for. The sentiment among traders is that the market is entitled to a rally and they are watching any turn that may be shown by the larger operators and in view of the dull period in our opinion it foreshadows better market in near future.

McIntyre & Marshall—While there was no perceptible increase in the volume of business or any important news in the developments in the general situation today a more hopeful feeling was in evidence. It is recognized that the market has had an important decline and that during the past three weeks of liquidation and general selling the speculative position has been very much improved in that there is little weak long interest held among commission houses and that at some time there is fairly large and extended interest. The market showed some persistent further selling at times, especially in Rock Island, Union Pacific and several other specialties but there was a better class of buying and support was noticeable. It looks to us as though the chances are now more in favor of a steadier market and we would not be surprised to see some rally.

COTTON MARKET.

Report of McIntyre & Marshall to William A. Otis & Co..

Chicago April 8. Wheat—Liverpool ½ to ¾ higher. Paris 1½ to 1¾ lower. Antwerp unchanged. Market here was active and strong. The Paris cables were apparently the active but Armour was the chief buyer and took pretty much everything offered. He is buying some May but mostly July. The seaboard is buying some French buying of red winter wheat but mainly of the near crop futures and there is some uncertainty as to the extent of it. Broomhall cables that the Liverpool advance was due to reports of French buying in this country. He also says that the reports from the French crop are contradictory but on the worst from the important wheat growing countries of the north where snow is melting has been found it is say than was expected. Bradstreet corrects his world's visible and makes its increase 600,000 instead of a decrease of about 1,000,000. Primary receipts continue large and on the whole the cash demand is poor. Armour is by all odds the most important factor in the wheat market at the moment. Estimated cars 50.

Corn—Liverpool ⅛ to ¾ higher. Tone of the market here was firmer. There seemed to be some relief from the strike situation and some vessels taking their clearance papers preparatory to moving out. Nothing important has developed yet in the way of a rush situation and it is on the whole dull. Cudahy is credited with having been a free seller of July corn which he is supposed to be long. The strength in wheat was no doubt a helping factor. Estimated cars 180.

Oats. Market was very dull and featureless. Low grades of cash oats were a little easier and there was nothing of interest in the speculative trade. Weather on the whole continues favorable for planting. Estimated cars 210.

Provisions. Market was firmer. The trade was small and prices are evidently influenced somewhat by the strength in wheat. Receipts hogs 6,000 against 50,000. Packers still seem to support prices on the breaks and outside trade is light.

Copper declined £1 1s in London closing there at £60 10s for spot and £60 12s 6d for futures. It was reported on the local metal exchange that casting copper was offered in the outside market as low as $13 7½ by second hands without finding a buyer. The English price, however, was nominally unchanged with standard quoted at £13 2s 1s and electrolytic at £14 at and casting at £14 1s. Tin advanced 13s in London to £135 9s. Lead remained quiet unchanged at $4 62½ in the New York market. Spelter was lower in London at £20 10s but continued quiet at $6 0 locally. Coffee Market

New York April 8. Coffee quiet.

Chicago Cattle Market

By Associated Press.

Chicago April 8. Cattle receipts 1,000. Market 10@15 cents higher. Good to prime steers $5 00@6 00; poor to medium $4 00@4 80; stockers and feeders $4 00@4 75; cows $1 50@4 50; heifers $1 75@4 75; bulls $2 50@4 25; calves $3 00@6 00; Texas fed steers $4 00@4 75.

Sheep—Receipts 1,000. Sheep and lambs choice steady, others lower. Good to choice wethers $4 75@5 25; fair to choice mixed $4 00@4 60; western sheep $5 00@6 00. Native lambs $4 00@6 00; western lambs $4 25@6 85.

Denver Live Stock

Denver April 8. Cattle—Receipts of cattle continue light and the demand very firm on this market with a tendency towards higher prices. The run in the eastern markets continues heavy and there seems to be a general feeling that there will be no fancy prices paid this year. However the good cattle are showing a better demand at the river and the market is paying slightly better prices and the demand includes all classes of cattle. Some fed Colorado steers sold at $4 42½ and the packers are looking for more of the same kind. Butcher stock is scarce and wanted. Offerings today were of the plain kind of cows and the best of the stuff on sale was only good enough to bring $4 10@4 25. Choice stockers and feeders are in strong demand with offerings only fair. Good quality and condition will bring the best prices now regardless of weight. Heavy steers of fair quality brought around $4 50@4 60, with the bulk of sales at $3 50@4 00. Buyers are looking for cattle but there is not a great deal in sight until the spring run commences. Packers are taking everything fit to kill that shows up and are outbidding the feeders lower.

Hogs—The supply of hogs continues light as compared with the demand which is steadily increasing as the new packing plant increases its trade. Eastern markets opened a shade higher but were only steady on the advance and closed at yesterday's figures. The top went at $4 45 which is the same as reported from the river but the market is firm at this figure and quality considered this market is paying rather higher than Omaha for good hogs. The general tone of the market is good and the market is in shape to handle all shipments coming.

Sheep—Receipts were light and the bulk of arrivals were on the market but arrived late. The arrivals included some very fair lambs from Lost Cabin which sold here as packers were needing supplies and the demand is very good on the best kinds. Fat ewes are steady.

Two Fair American Singers in Paris

Miss Elizabeth Parkinson of Kansas City, fresh, fair, with a svelte and graceful figure, and a voice of remarkable sweetness and power, is equipped for conquest. She has signed a three-year contract with Monsieur Carre, of the Opera Comique, who predicts great things for the charming debutante. Miss Parkinson is one of the most brilliant and promising of Madame Marchesi's pupils and is busily engaged under her guidance in mastering La Vie de Boheme, Lakme, Michaela and other roles. Melba also predicts a splendid future for this charming American. She has sung but little in public as she is only about completing her education.

Miss Ellen Beach Yaw is known as the singer with the phenomenal high note. It is said that no other living soprano can compete with her in this respect. Although a Californian Miss Yaw is better known in London and Paris than in her native state. At the early age of six the child began to warble as matters

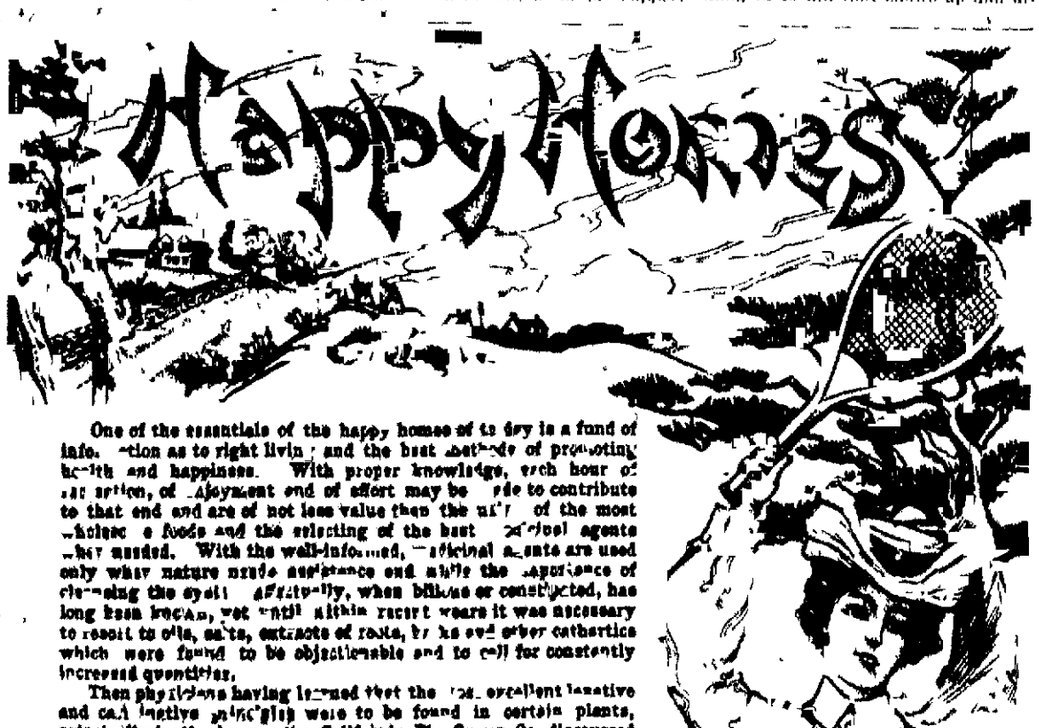
Happy Homes


One of the essentials of the happy homes of to day is a fund of information as to right living and the best methods of promoting health and happiness. With proper knowledge, each hour of rational action, of enjoyment and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and are of not less value than the use of the most wholesome foods and the selecting of the best medicinal agents when needed. With the well-informed, rational agents are used only when nature needs assistance and while the assistance of cleansing the system effectually, when bilious or constipated, has long been known, yet until within recent years it was necessary to resort to pills, salts, extracts of roots, herbs and other cathartics which were found to be objectionable and to call for constantly increased quantities.
Then physicians having learned that the most excellent laxative and cathartic principles were to be found in certain plants, principally in the laxes, the California Fig Syrup Co. discovered a method of obtaining such principles in their purest condition and of combining them with pleasant and refreshing liquids in the form most acceptable to the system and the remedy now so well known as Syrup of Figs, as figs were used, with the plants, in making it, because of their agreeable taste.
This excellent laxative is now universally recognized as the best of family laxatives, because it is gentle and wholesome and cleanses and refreshes the system effectually, without weakening the natural functions and without unpleasant after effects and its use may be discontinued when it is no longer required.
All who would enjoy good health and its blessings should remember that it is the one laxative which promotes well-informed health, and that to obtain its genuine and beneficial effects it is only necessary to see that the name of the California Fig Syrup Co. is printed on the front of every package.
Syrup of Figs is for sale by all reputable druggists at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, in original packages only, bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup of Figs and the full name of the Company.

THE GOVERNOR WILL NOT CALL AN EXTRA SESSION

[illegible] Form and [illegible] Cannot [illegible] Question [illegible] Treasury.

Spe / l to the Gazette

Denver, April 8.—New interest is taken in the project for an extra session, and the reported determination to attack the legality of the general appropriation bill on account of the irregularity in its passage is a new feature in the case. It is claimed that the action of Speaker Haggett in signing the appropriation bill in blank after the house had adjourned sine die, was illegal, and if allowed to pass unnoticed would make a very dangerous precedent and open the way for the unparalleled looting of state funds. President Haggett has been severely criticised for his action in defiance of both verbal and written protests from senators.

The suit which is being prepared and will be brought unless an extra session is called to straighten out the mess, has partly as its object to force consideration of the eight-hour law by the legislature in extra session. The action of the house and conference committee in striking the eight-hour bill's assassination has been denounced as a put up job, and friends of the bill are back of the movement to either force Governor Peabody to call an extra session to reconsider this and the general appropriation bill, or cause serious complications by restraining the auditor from drawing or paying any warrants out of the general fund. If the general appropriation bill is tied up by a suit it will mean that government employes will be compelled to work probably for six months without funds, and then have the prospect staring them in the face of not getting their pay at all. It is possible that the point would be made, if the plaintiff won the suit, that these employes were not authorized to work, because the appropriation for their salaries had not been legally passed. It is contended that the general appropriation bill is not valid, and that therefore there is no law at present to pay the cost of running the state.

It is estimated that the expenses of running the legislature is about $1,200 a day and it is feared that if an extra session is called some of the members would do as they are charged with doing in the past, and that is waste many days for the sole purpose of drawing their pay from the state.

To Jenkins' Chair.

Representative H. S. Tompkins of Chaffee county is in earnest in his denunciation of the carryings on of the Fourteenth general assembly. This afternoon he said: "The general appropriation feat was engineered by Brickenridge and his crowd. They have done nothing this session, and were anxious to make a record, which they have done, black as it is. This clique took entire control of the general appropriation bill, and did what they liked. This bill's passage was illegal for several reasons. The most important one is that it was signed in blank by Speaker Sanford and President Haggott, which left the amount to be filled in by clerks just as they saw fit. They could have made the amounts any sum they wanted to. There was no mention in the bill as to what the total should be, and the action of the speaker and the president was illegal. It opens the way for the state to be robbed on a gigantic scale. Some defenders of the actions of these men state that other appropriation bills have been passed in the same manner in other assemblies. If this is true, which I doubt, it is all the more reason that the legality of such maneuvers should be determined once for all. If other legislatures have done wrong, that is no reason why this one should. Two wrongs do not make a right."

Mr. Tompkins charges Speaker Sanford with irregularity in signing other bills and declares that the state reformatory was by this means defrauded of half the authorized appropriation.

Peabody's Position.

Governor Peabody, when seen today, stated that he would not call an extra session under any circumstances. He stated that when a bill has been signed by the speaker of the house, the president of the senate and the governor of the state, that the bill is transformed into a law. He said that it had been so decided by the supreme court in cases where the legality of congress bills signed by the speaker of the house, president of the senate and the president of the United States had been questioned. He said: "The general appropriation bill was properly engrossed when it reached me. I have it here on my desk now, and there is no difference in the form of this bill compared with any of the other bills I have here before me. I do not know under what circumstances the bill was passed. When it reached me there was no irregularity in it. The storm of protest that has been raised over the matter will not influence me. I shall not call an extra session."

Examination of the official register of legislative bills shows that 64 senate bills passed both houses this session, while 114 house bills passed both houses and are awaiting the signature of the governor. Out of the total 178 bills the governor has signed up to date 34. Among the ones approved today are the $200 personal property exemption (a constitutional amendment), the bill in regard to juries and justice courts, the legal holiday bill and the one legalizing the terms of notary publics whose commissions were given under the territory of Kansas. The old Arapahoe county notaries are also enabled to exercise their commissions under the bill.

TO IMPROVE CONDITION OF THE RANGE CATTLE

Special to the Gazette

Denver, April 8.—A matter of importance to the stock men of the state is having consideration by the officers of the humane society. This board has been trying for some time to encourage better care of range cattle. The Colorado Cattle and Horse Growers association has been inclined to aid in the work of the humane society which has heretofore been seriously handicapped by not having responsible agents. The complaints on this score have been more frequent than from any other cause. The Colorado Cattle and Horse Growers association has taken the matter up with local associations all over the state, with the result that responsible persons are being selected from the membership of local associations to act as agents of the humane society which is acting under a state law which gives it full authority to protect animals upon the range or elsewhere. As members of local associations will be appointed, it assures cattle growers against any unjust attempt to use the law as a graft, a practice which has been charged in a few sections and which has led to this proposition of the state board. Mr. E. K. Whitehead, secretary of the society, has received several letters from the various associations, naming members for appointment.

SERIOUS MUTINY AT ARAPAHOE COUNTY JAIL

Special to the Gazette

Denver, April 8.—There was mutiny here in the county jail today. Denver criminals confined in the jail fired on the guards, and for a while were in possession of the jail. Things were serious for a short time, but the officers finally rallied and succeeded in subduing the revolt, only however, after an exciting battle. Five desperate convicts led the attempt to break jail and win their freedom. In some way pistols were secured, presumably having been smuggled in by visitors, and two of the guards miraculously escaped being fatally injured. The trouble has exposed great laxity of discipline at the institution, and an investigation may result.

HEARING ON THE WILL OF THE LATE CHARLES L. FAIR

By Associated Press

New York, April 8.—The hearing on the will of the late Chas. L. Fair, who was killed in an automobile accident in France last August, was resumed today. Mrs. Hannah Nelson of Newmarket, N. J., mother of Mrs. Fair, seeks to show that Mr. Fair died before his wife.

Lucien Mary, the Frenchman, who testified yesterday that when he reached the scene of the accident, he found Mr. Fair dead and Mrs. Fair breathing, was again on the witness stand. He was cross-examined about an interview he had with M. Picard, a French secret agent, regarding the accident. Mary said he had refused to tell Picard who was with him and where he had been when he witnessed the accident because Mary and his friend Moranne had been to Deauville with women and did not want their wives to know about it.

Mary said he had not described the accident to M. Picard differently from his description at this hearing.

When counsel for Mrs. Nelson objected to the cross-examination as to what time Mary boarded a train after witnessing the accident, opposing counsel said it was most important as it "shows Mary was not at the place at all."

MELVILLE'S PLANS FOR TURBINE PROPELLED WARSHIP

By Associated Press

Washington, April 8.—Admiral Melville, engineer-in-chief of the navy, has a surprise in store for sailors which perhaps will be as revolutionary in its effect in naval construction as was his famous triple screw. For more than a year past his bureau has been making quiet inquiries and preparing plans for a turbine propelled warship. The best experts have been consulted and the plans have advanced to a point where it is thought satisfactory results are assured. Details of the novel arrangements of this ship are withheld for the present but it is expected they will be made public soon.

FRENCHMEN WILL OFFER BUST TO UNITED STATES

By Associated Press

Paris, April 8.—A committee has been formed composed of the Marquis de Lafayette, the Marquis de Grasse and Count de Rochambeau, descendants of three notable figures in the American revolution, to offer a bust of Washington to the United States. It will be a replica of the famous bust by David D'Angers, which was once in Washington, but was destroyed by fire. The daughter of the sculptor has placed at the disposal of the committee her father's original plaster cast from which the new bronze sections will be made.

A public subscription has been opened. The Count de Rochambeau is chairman of the committee.

STRIKE IN FITCHBURG

By Associated Press

Fitchburg, Mass., April 8.—The power was not started at the Park Hill cotton mills here today, on account of the strike of the weavers and loom fixers in mill C.

The weavers in mills A and B have been out since the middle of last month. In all 1,200 employes are now idle. The weavers of mill C objected to doing work left undone by the other mills by the origin l strikers.

PENNELL'S PAPERS

By Associated Press

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—Justice Murphy and District Attorney Coatsworth held a conference today on the Pennell inquest which will begin at the morgue at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. The course of the public inquiry so far as it could be discussed beforehand was settled. The inquests of Pennell and Mrs. Pennell are to be held jointly. The last known statement of Pennell in his own defense in which he says a woman killed Burdick at midnight, is to come out.

The question of suicide or accident is not to be tried out, so far as the district attorney is concerned. The part of the case will be directed by Justice Murphy. The alleged defalcations announced as equaling the total of Pennell's life insurance have nothing to do with the death of Burdick and the inquest will not be the trial of a dead man for swindling. But that which in any way may tend to throw light on the murder of Burdick is to come out. The letters Pennell wrote, the statement he left behind and all other papers that in any way touch upon or pertain to the affairs of Burdick are to be brought out if the authorities can get at them. Pennell's detective reports on the shadowing of Burdick are also to come unless they have found their way into hands beyond the reach of the court. The facts about the trust fund or bond from Pennell to Mrs. Burdick also may come out unless Attorney Thayer on the stand pleads his privilege as attorney for the dead man.

Even then it is for the court to decide whether the plea is valid, and Justice Murphy will pass upon whether Mr. Thayer should produce the papers in his possession at the time of Pennell's death.

Justice Murphy will sign the subpoenas desired by District Attorney Coatsworth. These include subpoenas for Thomas Penny, Attorney Wallace Thayer, who was Pennell's legal adviser, the witnesses to Pennell's will and many others.

The inquest probably will last two days. It was intimated today that in the event that those interested in the Pennell estate are called upon at an official inquiry to divulge any information as to Pennell's financial operations in the past, an effort will be made to show that the money which he obtained from his friends and relatives was in the nature of legitimate loans. In other words, it may be asserted that funds to the amount of about $200,000 were advanced to him without any security whatever. His attorney, Wallace Thayer, admits that Pennell had no security to give for such loans, that he possessed no real estate and had no bonds or stocks or mortgages.

"Perhaps the $200,000 which Pennell owed to friends and relatives in the east represents the money which they loaned him," said Attorney Thayer today. "Isn't it possible that he was not guilty of any criminal operations?"

Mr. Thayer was asked if Pennell possessed any security which he could give for loans to the amount of $200,000 and he replied that Pennell had never to his knowledge possessed anything in the way of security.

"Do you consider that he could borrow $200,000 from friends and relatives without giving security for it in excess in value of $200,000," Mr. Thayer was asked.

"No. It is not likely and that is one reason why I believe Pennell was a defaulter," was the reply.

Mr. Thayer says he has not yet opened the sealed instructions left him by the dead man.

"Pennell left written orders that they should not be opened until the insurance money was paid in," said Mr. Thayer. "I therefore do not know what his secret instructions are. In the sealed package is a number of papers. I do not know what they consist of. I do not know whether the bond drawn by Pennell to secure the payment of $5,000 to Mrs. Burdick is contained in that package or not. In fact I do not know yet whether the $25,000 life insurance assigned to me in trust was intended for Mrs. Burdick."

CASE AGAINST TILLMAN CONTINUED UNTIL JUNE

By Associated Press

Columbia, S. C., April 8.—Following yesterday's indictment by the grand jury of former Lieutenant Governor Tillman for the murder of Editor Gonzales in this city last January, and the fixing of today as the arraignment of the prisoner, the counsel for the defense this morning asked for a continuance of the case until the June term of the court and the request was granted. The grounds upon which the continuance was requested by the defense were the absence of two witnesses who the defense alleged are of great importance to the case. It is stated that one of the witnesses (W. J. White) is expected to testify that Mr. Gonzales went to the state house before the tragedy and inquired for Tillman stating that he had once made Tillman "Show the white feather and would do so again." The defense claims that a Miss Roper, trained nurse, who claims that she had heard Gonzales bitterly denounce Tillman could not be present for testimony today.

Affidavits were presented to the effect that Captain White was ill and that Miss Roper was in New York city.

The prosecution through Solicitor Thurmond and Col. Andrew Crawford argued that the defense had not complied with the ruling of the court and that there was not a sufficient showing on which to ask for a continuance and that the case should go to trial.

After a full discussion Judge Klugh rendered his decision continuing the case until next June.

BALFOUR'S COMMENTS ON THE BALKAN SITUATION

By Associated Press

London, April 8.—Parliament adjourned for the Easter holidays. During the usual discussion of foreign affairs prior to an adjournment Premier Balfour referred to the Balkan situation. He said the saving feature was a cordial co-operation of Austria and Russia with the view of improving the condition of the Christians. These two powers were more directly interested than any others, and what could not be accomplished by them, he had feeble hopes that the other signatories of the Berlin treaty, anxious as they were to end the intolerable state of things, would be able to devise any cure for the sore disease afflicting that portion of the Turkish empire. The government, Mr. Balfour continued, was considering sending British officers to accompany the Turkish troops engaged in the suppression of disorder, with the view of acquiring some guarantee that no excesses were committed.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION IN NEW YORK HARBOR

By Associated Press

New York, April 8.—The Atlas line Allegheny from Port Limon, Costa Rica, was badly damaged in the harbor of New York today as the result of a collision with the British steamer Joseph Merryweather, bound out for Baltimore and Cork, Ireland. The Allegheny was struck on the starboard side and a huge hole torn in her. She took water rapidly and soon her bow was under water. She lay near Bartley island. The passengers, many of them in a panic, were rescued by a passing tug and brought to the city. The crew remained on board gathered at the stern which was not submerged.

The collision occurred during a thick fog and it is said the Allegheny was anchored at the time waiting for clearer weather to make her way up the harbor to her pier. The ship's water tight compartments, six in number, kept her from sinking entirely.

The Allegheny sailed from Port Limon on March 30 with 34 passengers on board. She was built in Glasgow in 1894. She was 310 feet long, 48.2 feet beam and 23 feet deep. She registered 1,606 tons net.

The United States Fruit company, which had a big cargo of bananas on the Allegheny, sent a float to the vessel to take off the bananas. There were 10 cars and 104 stevedores on the float. It had been alongside the Allegheny about two hours when for some unknown reason it suddenly sank. About one-third of the stevedores were on the float at the time and were dumped into the water. According to the foreman however all got safely onto the Allegheny and were taken off by another boat sent by the United States Fruit company.

CHINESE RESUMING THE CONTROL OF MANCHURIA

By Associated Press

Peking, April 8.—Today was the date of the expiration of the treaty period of six months fixed for the evacuation of the second province of Manchuria. During the past fortnight the Russians have been removing their troops from the interior of the province, part of them going to Port Arthur and the others to stations on the railway, but none leaving Manchuria. The local governments are being transferred to the Chinese. Prince Ching, president of the ministry of foreign affairs, expressed his satisfaction at Russia's fulfillment of the agreement.

Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of customs, has appointed a Russian named Konavoloff commissioner of customs at Cetchawang in succession to an Englishman who is going home on leave of absence. According to Sir Robert Hart's policy a Russia-speaking official is considered to be the most efficient person for that post.

DEATH OF HENRY VAN BRUNT THE WELL-KNOWN ARCHITECT

By Associated Press

Boston, April 8.—Henry Van Brunt, well known as an architect and designer of the Electricity building at the Chicago World's fair, is dead. He had been ill for some months. His death occurred at the residence of his brother's widow in Milton, last night. Mr. Van Brunt was a native of this city, educated in Boston, he entered Harvard and was graduated with the class of '54. As an architect he is best remembered in this vicinity as a partner in the firm of Ware & Van Brunt and standing as monuments to his skill are the Memorial hall at Harvard college, the Mudge memorial church at Lynn and the First Unitarian church of this city. During the civil war Mr. Van Brunt was secretary to the admiral of the North Atlantic squadron. In 1868 Mr. Van Brunt went west and took up his residence in Kansas City where he was a member of the architectural firm of Van Brunt & Howe.

INDEMNITY FOR LYNCHING.

By Associated Press

Rome, April 8.—The Italian ambassador at Washington, Signor dei Planches, has notified the foreign office here that he has received $5,000 indemnity for the families of the Italians who were lynched or injured at Erwin, Miss., in July, 1901.

ONE of the greatest American millionaires said the other day to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in, and of what use is many millions of dollars or even one million? One of a man's greatest pleasures is that born of a keen appetite, vigorous digestion and a good dinner, and this belongs to many a good fellow who is living on small wages but is able to buy a beefsteak now and then and have the healthy digestion to assimilate it but the rich man without a stomach has to forego the juicy steak and the good things of the table because his stomach rebels. After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and a good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. In this condition man is prey to the germs of influenza, consumption, malaria and all the ills that man is heir to. Consumption can be treated by natural methods by methods which are as close to nature as it is possible to be. The treatment is brought within the reach of the poorest classes not only in curing the disease in its beginning but in the prevention of disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease. We now understand the cause of consumption, that plague of the earth which according to the census kills off twelve of every one hundred inhabitants of the United States.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood this disease and after a long period of experiment discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that would be easily procured and ready to use. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Along with its use he advises every one to take exercise in the outdoor air, to get all one can of God's sunlight and also a mild breathing exercise to be practiced each day. This "Medical Discovery" gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or other narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. Instead of a cod liver oil, against which the already sensitive stomach will declare open rebellion this tonic has a pacifying action upon the sensitive stomach and gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. It maintains the patient's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion and in this way fever, night sweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. It fortifies the body against the germs of consumption, grip and malaria and it builds up the flesh and puts on healthy flesh.

$3,000 FOR LIT will be paid by the World Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing thus proving them genuine.

"Last August my limbs commenced to swell from ankles to stomach and the skin on my limbs seemed to shine like glass," writes Mrs. Lucretia J. Cornish of Chippewa, Osceola Co., Mich. "I could not take a good breath. The doctor said I had lifted too much and my liver was swelling to double the size it should be and crowded my heart and lungs. I could scarcely speak without coughing. The doctor gave me six powders and a liquid to take and said he would come again. I told him I would send if I wanted more medicine. We did not have the means to pay six dollars a trip for the doctor, so I went and got six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and when I had taken one bottle the swelling had nearly gone out of my limbs and I commenced to improve. Through the goodness of God and your wonderful medicine I feel as well as I did before I was taken sick. I cannot expect to be as young as formerly. I was sixty-six last April and weighed one hundred and eight pounds a year ago. My weight was reduced to one hundred and eight pounds but I am gaining now. I can walk two miles to church and back on Sunday without much fatigue. I ought to complain."

When the druggist says he has something that is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery he may just tell him "There is nothing just as good." He says so because he hopes to make a better profit but his own mixture have not stood the test of long experience or had the success that Dr. Pierce's medicines have had.

REPORTED DISSATISFACTION AMONG MINE WORKERS

By Associated Press

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 8.—The report went out concerning a general feeling of unrest among the mine workers are greatly exaggerated. In this valley there is some little dissatisfaction at a few of the collieries but what there is can be readily remedied upon the arrival of John Mitchell president of the United Mine Workers who is expected to reach here some time during the next week. Officials of the various coal companies admit that there is some dissatisfaction among their employes but contend that this is due to misinterpretation of the mine committee's award. The companies in general stand ready to adhere to all the stipulations of the award.

KANSAS FAVORS ENFORCING THE PROHIBITORY LAW

By Associated Press

Topeka, Kas., April 8.—Returns from all the towns in Kansas which held elections yesterday disclose the fact that the vote in favor of enforcing the prohibitory law is the most overwhelming in the history of the state. A special effort was made by the opponents of prohibition to make a good showing at this election and thus pave the way for a vigorous submission campaign two years from now. Only six towns of any importance in the state voted in favor of a liberal policy toward the saloons.

STRIKE PARENTS KEEP CHILDREN NEXT NUMBER

TO PROCLAIM A GENERAL STRIKE THROUGHOUT HOLLAND

By Associated Press

Amsterdam, April 8—The workmen's committee has decided to proclaim a general strike of all trades throughout the country

The city remains quiet up to tonight. The queen and her consort drove out as usual in The Hague today

The municipal employes met here tonight and decided to go out on strike tomorrow morning This action will affect the gas, telephone, sanitary and water services, but it is believed that only a third of the men will respond to the strike call and that the military will be employed to maintain the public services.

The proclamation calling for a general strike of all trades throughout the country is considered to be a policy of despair. In authoritative quarters it is believed that the strike as an organized movement is doomed to failure and that the government's anti-strike bill will be speedily passed, greatly strengthening the hands of the authorities

Meantime there is no doubt the public is suffering great inconvenience through the stagnation of trade resulting from the strike There is a rush on the state pawnshops and the savings banks

The mails are arriving irregularly and late being forwarded partly by automobiles where the railways are held up by the strike The theaters were able to resume tonight, the singers and dancers who had gone on strike having resumed their duties

The dwellings of the employes of the government railroad who have not struck are guarded by troops as protection for the men's wives and children. The bakers' shops and carts are similarly protected

The employes of the river and canal navigation companies have decided to strike in sympathy with the railroad men.

More trains are running today than on yesterday The pupils of the locomotive engineers institute have unanimously tendered their services to the railroads Their offers have been accepted and a number of them are being employed as stokers

The workmen's defense committee is anxiously awaiting reports from the delegates who were sent to Germany, France and England to appeal for the support of the trades unions of those countries.

UNION AND NON-UNION MEN ENGAGED IN LIVELY FIGHT

By Associated Press

Baltimore, April 8 - A hundred non-union structural iron workers were waiting in the Calvert station of the Pennsylvania road to board a train for Pittsburg tonight They were approached by a number of union men who tried to dissuade them from taking the places of strikers Finding their arguments unavailing, several of the union men resorted to violence and a lively scene followed Reserves from the central station arrested four union and two non-union men and a special officer who was with the latter. The other non-union men proceeded on their way to Pittsburg

REDMOND'S SPEECH IN DUBLIN

Irish Leader Welcomes the Measure in Spite of What He Calls Its Great Defects—Deprecates the Mixing of Home Rule and Land Questions—King Edward Will Be Welcomed.

By Associated Press

London, April 8—John Redmond, the Irish leader, made an important speech at Dublin tonight in which he welcomed the Irish land bill in spite of its great defects, as the first measure proposed by an English minister having the avowed object of carrying into effect the policy of Parnell and the Land league

He said he did not wish to forestall the decision of the coming national convention at Dublin The latter is an ordinance of the bill would mean the annulment of the bill and its certain passage into law The rejection of the bill by the convention would mean that both Chief Secretary Wyndham and his bill would disappear. He knew what he was saying when he said that at this moment the positions of the government, of Mr Wyndham and of the land bill were all weak positions He deprecated any mixing up of the questions of land and home rule He believed that the settlement of the land question would remove the most formidable obstacle on the road to home rule, but the suggestion made by some Liberals that the Irish land bill should be accompanied by a measure of home rule was dangerous and the suggestion was likely to wreck the bill He considered that Ireland ought to be prepared to give Mr Wyndham's attempt to deal with the question a fair trial

After outlining desirable amendments to the land bill Mr Redmond expressed surprise that there should be any uncertainty regarding the reception that Ireland would give to King Edward on his coming visit He was convinced that the king was friendly to Ireland and except that the Nationalists by their attitude toward the crown were absolutely barred from giving his majesty an official reception he would be welcomed with every courtesy and hospitality

Baerwald Goes to Frisco—O'Brien May Be Released

An announcement was made at the local offices of the Colorado Springs baseball team yesterday that will bring regret to the hearts of a great many of the local fans Charley Baerwald who has officiated as backstop on the local nine since late in the season of 1901 has been loaned to the San Francisco team of the Pacific Northwest league, and leaves this morning to assume his new duties It was just a case of 'let one of the catch is go' with the local management, and in its opinion Baerwald was the one as he is not as old and as experienced as either Stalnaigle or Doran

In sending Baerwald to the coast Manager Burns is pulling some of the wires that have been strung by the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs in the movement to oust the California league It is well known fact that McCloskey who is in charge of the new team that has been placed in Frisco is having a rather hard time in getting players, and it is so late in the season, and all good men that are available have been taken The addition of Baerwald to the ranks of the new aggregation will have a tendency to strengthen the catching department if Baerwald shows the form that he has here While it cannot be said that Baerwald is one of the stars of the game he is surely a comer and the fans will be sorry to see him leave

Baerwald, however, has not been released absolutely to McCloskey as there is a written contract between the two managers requiring that the local catcher shall be returned to the local team upon 10 days' notice if he is wanted at any time during the season It is also stated in the agreement that at the end of the season Baerwald shall return to this city and shall be placed upon the local reserve list

Baerwald came to the local team late in 1901 He started the season with St Paul but was transferred to Litchfield and later to this city Previous to entering the Western league Baerwald played in a number of semi-professional leagues

It is stated at the offices of the local team that O'Brien will be the next to go While O'Brien has not yet had a chance to show what he could do the local management has decided to retain him, as the infield positions are all provided for O'Brien agreed to come to this city on trial just before training season began It has not been decided as yet where he will go He may return to the Dakota league or follow Baerwald to the coast O'Brien's wife is ill at the Spaulding home and he may not join the club for some time

It looks as if the loss of Baerwald and the release of O'Brien will cut off about all the unnecessary men and the team will begin the season with two catchers five pitchers and eight outfielders and infielders

Two Games Today—Tigers Defeat Millionaires

By Associated Press

Weymouth England, April 8 With club sails set in a good 12 to 14 knot breeze off shore, promising fair racing and a thorough test both of speed and gear, the Shamrock III and the Shamrock I started today off down the wind for a leeward and windward trial The Shamrock III was a good length ahead as the boats were sent off She gathered way faster and was off with double that lead before the older boat had fairly started Booms were run off, and the Shamrock I drew into the wake of the cup challenger, getting between her and the wind This advantage enabled the old boat to draw up somewhat, but the blanketing did not last long and the challenger opened away fast and ran in such fashion as helped to dispel doubts as to her speed when off the wind

When the boats were three-quarters on the way to the Shambles lightship, the wind drew more westerly and the Shamrock III had to run a course considerably more to the westward, throwing her astern as they luffed for the Shambles The Shamrock I led round the lightship

The time was

Shamrock I 10 45 02

Shamrock III, 10 45 26

The wind held fresh and fairly steady allowing an honest trial of speed Both boats were equally served by the wind and sailing practically in the same water It took a little over 50 minutes to run the seven miles, and the boats turned the Shambles on the second round as follows

Shamrock III 12 42 [illegible]

Shamrock I, 12 44 57

The challenger gradually increased the gap The yachts trimmed up as close as they could lie to a fine steady breeze and both made short work of the journey, doing about 12 knots The Shamrock III pulled ahead the whole time gaining fully three minutes from mark to mark The yachts had the second round as follows

Shamrock III 1 [illegible]

Shamrock I, 1 48 58

The boats were then sent off on another spinnaker run westward Shamrock III which had a short lead in starting widened the gap About a mile from the Shambles the spinnakers were taken in and the two boats reached the marked which was turned as follows

Shamrock III [illegible]

Shamrock I [illegible]

The challenger gained exactly two minutes on a seven mile beat to windward As the two yachts rounded the lightship they were set for the next run to the Shambles Smart work on board Shamrock I enabled her to make up a good deal of lost ground The wind faltered racing down the wind the challenger not gaining appreciably in the first couple of miles

Shamrock III [illegible] Shamrock I [illegible]

This was taken to indicate a minute for the new yacht in the seven miles

A couple of long tacks brought them home Hitches were set and the challenger rapidly opened out a long lead seemingly being well suited for the freshening wind

The time at the finish of the third round was

Shamrock III [illegible] Shamrock I [illegible]

The new boat had thus beaten Shamrock I four minutes over the last seven mile turn to windward

The trials were regarded by experts as showing that Shamrock III is markedly superior to the old boat in light weather, and more open water In running off the wind in a light breeze Shamrock I was only some seconds a mile down but on the wind the challenger quite cut out the old boat

Tigers Win Game from Millionaires

Special to the Gazette.

St Joseph, April 8 -John W Garrett of Colorado Springs won high average on targets today at the annual state shoot of the Missouri State Fish and Game association Garrett made his scores standing at 21 yards Gilbert won high average yesterday The shoot will close tomorrow after three days at clay targets Two days at live birds will follow The weather during the past two days has been very warm but the wind blew a gale at times this afternoon The attendance at the shoot is very large The scores for two days are such as to indicate beyond question that Garrett and Gilbert will win the highest averages of the tournament Messrs Garrett and Gilbert and the majority of the other shooters here will attend the Grand American handicap at Kansas City next week.

The game at Washburn field yesterday afternoon between the Colorado college Tigers and the Millionaires was won by the professionals by a score of 13 to 6 The Millionaire aggregation made nine runs in the first two innings. For the next six inning they obtained but five hits and four runs while the Tigers got seven hits and five runs in the same number of inings The last six innings were characterized by an absence of baseball as is generally found in a practice game and a great many league games Heater pitched at the stage of the game and did excellent work The collegians showed that they had improved considerably over their first game with the Burns Bros The two teams will play another game tomorrow afternoon at Boulevard park Saturday the college team goes to Pueblo to play the C F & I team

The game yesterday was witnessed by only a small crowd as many of the fans thought the game was to be played at Boulevard park and went out there Boulevard park is now undergoing a number of repairs but it will be in shape for tomorrow's game
